Sanction to heavy excesses over detailed estimates.

8. If at any time during the progress of the work, the local authority has reason to anticipate that the sanctioned detailed estimate will be exceeded by more than 10 per cent., or if it shall at any time appear that the sanctioned detailed scheme will require material alteration, the local authority must forthwith submit to Government for approval a revised scheme with revised estimates and plans.

The revised estimates and plans must be prepared—

(a) in the case of a work carried out under condition (a) of rule 10 (2) —by the District or other Engineer entrusted with the work and scrutinised by the Sanitary Engineer;

(c) in the case of a work carried out under condition (c) of that rule—by the Public Works Department.

Taking over of complete supervision and control by Sanitary Engineer.

9. (1) When requested by the local authority concerned, the Sanitary Engineer shall, if he considers that he can so arrange without detriment to the public service, take over the complete supervision and control of the work of carrying out any such project on payment of the fees prescribed in rule 28.

(2) These fees shall cover the salaries and expenses of the necessary resident engineers, assistants, subordinates and menials, who may be appointed by the Sanitary Engineer, as well as the cost of a local office for the resident engineer, stationery and instruments and other incidental expenses incurred by the supervising staff.

Conditions as to detailed engineering supervision.

10. (1) Where the cost of the projected work is estimated to amount to Rs. 10,000 or more, adequate provision for detailed engineering supervision shall be a condition precedent to the grant of final sanction by the Government.

(2) In the absence of special sanction to the contrary, one of the following arrangements shall be made—

(a) that, with the previous approval of the Sanitary Engineer, the work be carried out under the supervision of the District Engineer or any other Engineer in its employ; or

(b) that the work be carried out under the supervision of an Engineer specially employed for the purpose, assisted by an adequate establishment of properly-qualified overseers, the name and qualifications of the Engineer having been previously submitted to the Sanitary Engineer and approved by him; or

(c) that the work be carried out by the Public Works Department if that Department can undertake it: in such cases an extra charge of 15 per cent. on the sanctioned estimates shall be made for supervision, unless the case is one of extraordinary difficulty, under which circumstances a higher charge may be imposed under the orders of Government; or

(d) that the work be carried out, under the complete supervision or control of the Sanitary Engineer under an arrangement provided for in rule 9.

(3) In the cases of conditions (a) and (b), referred to in sub-rule (2), the work while in progress shall be subject to the inspection and control of the Sanitary Engineer.

Report by local authority to the Commissioner in case of small work.

11. Where the estimated cost of works amounts to less than Rs. 10,000, but more than Rs. 5,000 the local authority shall report, for the information of the Commissioner of the Division, the agency by which it is proposed to have such works carried out, and shall follow the instructions issued by him in the matter.

Tenders and Contracts.

12. In the case of works carried out under clauses (a) and (b) of rule 10 (2) the following procedure (rules 13 to 24) shall be followed.

Preparation of drawing, specifications, forms of tender, etc.

13. When requested by the local authority the Sanitary Engineer shall prepare working or contract drawings, specifications, estimates, bills of quantities, forms of tender, or other documents or plans required for the execution of sanitary engineering works which have been duly sanctioned and which are to be let out by contract, as well as forms of advertisement inviting tenders for such works.

Approval of Sanitary Engineer to drawings, specifications, forms of tender, etc.

14. When drawings, specifications, bills of quantities, forms of tender, and other documents referred to in rule 13 are not prepared by the Sanitary Engineer, such drawings, specifications, etc., shall be submitted to the Sanitary Engineer for his approval in writing before tenders for the contract of such work are advertised for in the public press.

Advertisements inviting tenders.

15. Every advertisement for tenders shall briefly describe the works required to be carried out, the place or places where plans and drawings can be seen and copies of the specifications and forms of tender obtained, the deposit to be paid by any person making a tender, and the date and hour up to which tenders shall be received by the Chairman or the Vice-Chairman of the local authority.

Approval of plans, drawings, specifications, forms of tender, etc., by the local authority.

16. The plans, drawings, specifications, bills of quantities, forms of tender and advertisements shall be formally approved by the local authority in meeting. Whenever the said authority desires to make any alteration in any one of such documents, the Sanitary Engineer shall be informed and his advice obtained with regard to such alteration.

Submission and receipt of tenders.

17. All tenders shall be submitted in sealed covers addressed to the Chairman or the Vice-Chairman of the local authority, and such officer shall attend in person at the office of that authority or at any other place to which it may be directed that tenders shall be forwarded at the latest hour specified in the advertisement for the receipt thereof. Any tender received after such hour shall be out of order and shall not be accepted.

Opening and numbering of tenders.

18. The Chairman or the Vice-Chairman of the local authority shall himself open the tenders, shall number each tender and shall note thereon the exact time at which it was opened.

Check and scrutiny of tenders.

19. After the tenders have been opened, they shall be sent for check or scrutiny to the Sanitary Engineer, or, in cases where the District Engineer is entrusted with the work, to the District Engineer, who shall, in case of difficulty or uncertainty, consult the Sanitary Engineer.

20. The Sanitary Engineer, or the District Engineer in charge, as the case may be, shall, after checking and scrutinising the tenders, return them to the local authority with his remarks and recommendations.

Return of tenders after check and scrutiny.

21. The local authority shall thereafter consider the tenders in meeting and either accept one of them provisionally or, if necessary or desirable, refer the question to the Sanitary Engineer for further advice.

Consideration of tenders.

22. No tender shall be accepted which is not in order, is not fully priced out and is not in every way in accordance with the instructions contained in the advertisement inviting such tenders. Any alteration or reduction in a tender made by the person making the tender after the same has once been submitted shall (except in the case of a palpable arithmetical error) at once render the tender out of order.

Acceptance of tender.

23. If it is found that none of the tenders submitted is satisfactory, or if for any reason it is believed that the conditions of tendering have not been properly understood, so that fair tenders have not been received, all such tenders shall be discharged and fresh tenders shall be advertised for.

Discharge of tenders and advertisement for fresh tenders.

24. After a tender has been provisionally accepted, it shall be submitted to the Sanitary Engineer for final approval, together with all other tenders received for the work, and until such approval has been received no tender shall be finally accepted by the local authority:

Provisional acceptance and submission of a tender to the Sanitary Engineer.

Provided that, in case of difference of opinion between the local authority and the Sanitary Engineer in regard to the acceptance of a particular tender, the matter shall, if the local authority so desires, be referred to the Chief Engineer, Roads and Buildings, whose decision shall be final and binding on all parties.

25. Rules 13 to 24 shall not apply in the case of works entrusted to the Public Works Department under clause (c) or carried out under the complete supervision or control of the Sanitary Engineer under clause (d) of rule 10; such cases shall be governed by the rules contained in Chapter VIII of the Public Works Code. NOTICE.

(UNDER ORDER I, RULE 8, OF THE CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE.)

In the 1st Court of the Sub-Judge of Dacca.

SUIT No. 48 OF 1915.

1. Nawabzada Khwajah Athikollah, son of late Nawab Sir Ahsanollah Bahadur, K.C.I.E., of Delkusha Garden Purana Paltan, in the town of Dacca, 2. Khwajah Rasul Baksh, son of late Khwajah Hafizullah, 3. Khwajah Soleman Quader, son of late Khwajah Amirullah, of Ahsan Munzil, police-station Sudder, in the town of Dacca, plaintiffs, versus Nawab Khwajah Habibullah Saheb, son of late Nawab Sir Salimullah Bahadur, G.C.I.E., of Kumartoli, Ahsan Munzil, police-station Sudder, in the town of Dacca, defendant.

ALL the members of the Khwajah Family, otherwise known as the Nawab Family, of Dacca, interested like the plaintiffs in the Waqf properties covered by the Towlyatnamah, dated the 27th Bysack 1253 B.S., executed in Persian by Dhon Bibi and others, of the said family; and entitled to get allowances out of the income of the said Waqf properties through the Mutawalli of the same, are hereby informed by this notice that the above-noted suit has been instituted by the said plaintiffs against the abovenamed defendant; and in the plaint of which it is stated that on the death of Nawab Sir Salimullah Bahadur, G.C.I.E., the last Mutawalli of the said Waqf properties, his son, the defendant Nawab Habibullah Saheb, has in contravention to the long established custom and usage of the said family and in utter disregard of the provisions made in the Towlyatnamah of 1253 B.S. illegally and without authority set himself up as the Mutawalli; and as such is exercising the powers of that office (Mutawalliship) with respect to the possession of the properties described in the schedule given below, and comprising the said Towlyatnamah of 1253 B.S.; and that he has declared that he will not pay the allowances to the members of the family, who have been the recipients thereof, unless they grant receipts for the same admitting the defendant as the Mutawalli. That the said plaintiffs further state that the defendant is not the Mutawalli of the said Waqf properties, nor has he been appointed as such; on the other hand, they say that the plaintiff No. 1, according to the long established custom and usage of the said Khwajah Family, has been duly elected and appointed Mutawalli of the aforesaid Waqf properties by the majority of the members of the said Khwajah Family in a general meeting of the said members, held on the 4th February last; and that the plaintiff No. 1 having been duly appointed Mutawalli, wrote a letter on the 6th February last to Colonel J. Hodding, who has been the Manager of the said estate from before, requesting him to use the name of the plaintiff No. 1 as Mutawalli in the place of the late Mutawalli, in connection with the management and collection affairs, etc., of the said Waqf estate; and that Mr. Hodding, in reply, informed the plaintiff No. 1, by a letter dated the 9th February last, that the defendant has been performing the duties of the Mutawalli by virtue of his appointment as such by the late Nawab Sir Salimullah Bahadur. The plaintiffs further state that Nawab Sir Salimullah Bahadur did neither nominate nor appoint the defendant as Mutawalli of the said Waqf estate, and that he had no such power and authority. The plaintiffs further say that of all the members of the said family who are interested in the said Waqf estate, and are in enjoyment of the rights and interests under the said Towlyatnamah, they (plaintiffs) are holding prominent position; and that there are other members equally interested whose number will be over 200; and that the plaintiff No. 1, who is legally appointed, and as such real Mutawalli of the said Waqf estate, is, in addition to the aforesaid interests and privileges, entitled to exercise the rights of possession, privileges and functions of the said office of the Towlyat. The plaintiffs further state that they are entitled to institute and carry on this suit on their own behalf and for their own interests; and that on the 19th April last, they prayed for permission of this Court under Order I, Rule 8, to institute this suit on their own behalf and interest as well as on behalf of the other members equally and similarly interested; and that the Court, in accordance with the aforesaid prayer, has accorded permission to the plaintiffs to institute this suit on behalf of, and for the benefit of all the members interested. Accordingly the plaintiffs have filed the aforesaid suit on their own behalf and interest as well as on behalf of the aforesaid other members; and that the 19th May 1915 has been fixed for the settlement of issues. That the plaintiffs in the said plaint have prayed for the following relief:—

(Ka).—To find and declare that the plaintiff No. 1 has been legally and validly appointed Mutawalli of the Waqf properties described below, in accordance with the aforesaid long standing family custom and usage, and in terms and spirit of the Waqfnamah of 1253 B.S. executed in conformity with, and in support of, the said family custom and usage.

(Kha).—To pass a decree in favour of plaintiff No. 1 for possession of the office of Mutawalli; and as appertaining thereto for exercising all the rights of possession and privileges with respect to the properties described in the schedule given below.

(Ga).—To appoint a Receiver during the pendency of the suit for the management and protection of the properties described in the schedule given below, and for regularly distributing the allowances amongst the allowance-holders; and also to discharge all other duties and functions as provided in the aforesaid Waqfnamah, Memorandum of Agreement and the Agreement; and to make provisions for duly carrying out the duties and functions relating to the office of the Mutawalli under the directions of the Court, and for the collection of the profits of the said Waqf properties through the Receiver, and for payment of the allowance, etc., to the recipients of the same on their granting receipts in favour of the Receiver.

(Gha).—If in the opinion of the Court the appointment of plaintiff No. 1 as Mutawalli be not enforceable, and if it is deemed proper and necessary to appoint a new Mutawalli, in accordance with the long standing custom and usage of the family, and the provisions of the Waqfnamah—to pass necessary orders for the election and appointment of a Mutawalli; and to confirm the person re-elected by the family members, in the office of the Mutawalli, empowering him to discharge the duties and functions of that office.

(Uma).—To pass a decree for costs with interest against the defendant.

RESOLUTION ON THE BUDGET ESTIMATE OF THE HOWRAH BRIDGE FOR THE YEAR 1915-16.

No. 1586 Marine.

Government of Bengal.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 17th May 1915.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Letter from the Vice-Chairman, Port Commissioners, Calcutta, No 14086, dated the 30th March 1915, submitting the Budget estimate of income and expenditure of the Howrah Bridge for the year 1915 16.

Receipts.—The receipts of the Bridge are estimated at Rs. 1,92,750 as compared with Rs. 2,20,338, the estimate of the preceding year. The income of the Bridge is principally derived from a terminal fee of 2 pies per maund on certain goods traffic of the East Indian Railway to and from Howrah. The decreased provision under "Receipts" for the year 1915-16 is due to less income being expected from the terminal fee owing to decrease in traffic.

2. Expenditure.—The estimated expenditure is Rs. 2,49,220 against Rs. 2,10,065, the estimate of the previous year. The increase in the estimated expenditure is mainly due to heavy payment during the year (1) of Rs. 13,300 for repairs to the East Indian Railway pontoons at Howrah, which are utilized by the Bridge ferry steamers, and (2) of Rs. 31,220 for the hire of the Port Trust dredging plant employed in the service of the Bridge, the charges for which were not correctly allocated in the past.

3. The estimated receipts fall short of the estimated expenditure by Rs. 56,470 which will be met by appropriation from the Reserve Fund, which with the Pontoon Renewal Fund stands at Rs. 7¾ lakhs.

4. The Governor in Council approves of the estimate under section 21 of the Howrah Bridge Act, 1871.

By order of the Governor in Council,

F. A. A. COWLEY,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2087.—The 8th May 1915.—The following is published for general information.

K. C. DE,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

REPORT ON THE BRUCE INSTITUTION FOR THE YEAR 1914.

I. Control.—(1) During the year under review Mr. James Wyness was appointed to be a Governor in the place of Mr. A. M. Monteath, resigned.

(2) The following is a list of the Governors holding office at the end of the year:—

The Hon'ble the Chief Justice of Bengal	Ex officio.
The Most Rev. the Lord Bishop of Calcutta ...
The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, Bengal ...
The Chairman of the Calcutta Municipality ...

The Hon'ble Mr. Justice Richardson.
The Ven'ble W. K. Firminger (Archdeacon of Calcutta).
The Hon'ble Mr. F. H. Stewart, C.I.E.

II. Capital and income.—The capital of the Institution stood, as in the previous year, at Rs. 10,51,200 of which Rs. 10,46,200 are in the form of a 3½ per cent. stock-certificate of the year 1865. The balance, viz., Rs. 5,000, is invested in 3½ per cent. Government securities. The annual interest on the capital amounts to Rs. 36,792, which is kept in the Bank of Bengal. The year opened with a balance of Rs. 23,331-0-4 and closed with a balance of Rs. 21,330-12-8.

III. Election to vacancies, etc.—(1) The annual election of foundationers was held on Thursday, the 15th January. For the 26 vacancies advertised 92 applications were received, and 26 girls were elected on the recommendation of a sub-committee consisting of the Ven'ble the Archdeacon of Calcutta, the Rev. Father A. Van de Mergel, the Rev. D. H. Manley and Mr. G. D'O. Maclear. The names of two other girls were kept on a waiting-list, and they were subsequently admitted as beneficiaries on the occurrence of vacancies. Of the girls elected, 7 were placed in the Loreto Convent, Entally (5 in the Boarding School and 2 in the Orphanage), 5 in the Calcutta Girls' School, 5 in the Pratt Memorial School, 3 in La Martinière, 1 in St. Paul's Mission Home, 5 in the Loreto Convent, Asansol, and 2 in the Protestant European Orphanage, Cuttack.

(2) Of the 17 girls withdrawn during the year, 14 had attained the age of 17 years, the limit ordinarily allowed under the rules, and 3 were withdrawn for various reasons before they had attained that age.

(3) Of the girls who had been withdrawn during the preceding year and in respect of whom reports have been received during the year under review, one is employed in the Telephone Exchange, while another is an apprentice in the Telegraph Office. One girl, after passing the Senior Cambridge Local Certificate Examination, has joined the Training Class at Loreto House, Calcutta, another has joined the Medical College, Calcutta, and one girl has become a teacher.

(4) At the close of the year there were 138 girls on the foundation against 123 in the preceding year. They were distributed as follows:—

3. Having father or both parents alive ...	3	4	4	11
Total ...	62	41	35	138

(6) The health of the girls was on the whole satisfactory.

IV. Education and maintenance.—(1) The nature of the education imparted to the girls on the foundation was generally that prescribed for Elementary and Higher Elementary Schools under the Code of Regulations for European Schools in Bengal, and in a few cases that for the Cambridge Local Certificate Examinations.

(2) Parents and guardians are generally given the choice of any boarding school for the education of their children or wards, who may be elected, provided that the school has been approved by Government as suitable for the beneficiaries of the Bruce Fund. A sum of Rs. 21-8 or Rs. 16 a month is paid for the education and maintenance of each foundationer in a boarding school or an orphanage, as the case may be. A sum of Rs. 40 or Rs. 25, once for all, is also allowed for each foundationer for an outfit on joining a boarding school or an orphanage, as the case may be. Under the rules a girl is not ordinarily allowed to remain on the Fund after she has attained the age of 17 years, when an outfit grant of Rs. 50 is generally allowed to the school authorities for the benefit of the girl to enable her to make a start in life. If, however, a girl elects to take up teaching as a profession, an extension up to the limit when she attains the age of 20 years may be given under the rules. Two such extensions were granted during the year under report. Short extensions, not exceeding a year, are also generally allowed to girls who are preparing for any examinations or who are learning shorthand and type-writing. Six such extensions were granted during the year.

(3) The monthly average cost of the education and maintenance of each girl on the Fund amounted to Rs. 19-0-7 against 18-8-9 in the preceding year.

(4) The amounts paid under the different heads of expenditure were as noted below :—

V. Inspection.—The Ven'ble Archdeacon Firminger was appointed Visiting Governor for the first-half, and the Rev. Father A. Van de Mergel for the second-half, of the year. Their reports were on the whole satisfactory. Father Van de Mergel, however, pointed out that it was the practice in some schools for the school authorities to make over the outfit money, which is generally given for a girl on leaving school, to the parents or guardians, instead of purchasing the outfit themselves or having it prepared in school. A circular was accordingly issued to all the schools having Bruce wards to the effect that in no case whatever should the outfit money be handed over either to the parents or guardians or to the ward herself; but that the Governors hoped that the school authorities would themselves supervise the outlay of the money, and that in any case in which the authorities of the school did not see their way to supervising the outlay of the money, they should inform the Honorary Secretary to the Governors of the Bruce

Institution, who would consider the case and see whether he could arrange for any other means which would ensure the proper outlay of the money.

VI. Meetings.—Four meetings were held during the year, and among the various resolutions passed the following may be noted :—

(1) That in the election of children preference should be given to candidates from Bengal who were to be educated in Bengal schools.

(2) That when the Governors are asked for extension on account of courses of instruction which extend beyond one year, the whole period of the course should be taken into consideration and a decision arrived at in the first instance with reference to the whole period involved.

(3) That St. Agnes's School, Howrah, be added to the list of schools to which Bruce wards may be sent.

Hony. Secy. to the Governors.

IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT.

The 25th May 1915.

No. 8.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), and in supersession of those portions of Bengal Government Notification No. 98, dated the 4th April 1893, and Notification No. 10, dated the 22nd December 1906, which relate to the Hijili Tidal Canal and the portion of the Orissa Coast Canal lying in this Presidency, the Governor in Council is pleased to make and fix the following revised rules and revised schedules of rates of tolls for the Hijili Tidal Canal and the portion of the Orissa Coast Canal lying in this Presidency

F. A. A. COWLEY,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rules.

1. Every vessel, entering or passing along any of the above lines of navigation, shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of toll the vessel should pay according to the schedule of rates authorised by Government to be charged on the line of navigation.

2. The tonnage of every vessel, except loose timber and rafts, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purposes of the "Canals Act, 1864," and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

(a) The product of half the length of the vessel, measured along the water-line and round the contour of the vessel from centre of stem to centre of stern-post, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel or by the greatest breadth of the cargo, should this overhang, or, as in the case of logs, be lashed alongside, multiplied by the greatest interior depth from the water-line to the bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which toll shall be levied.

(b) The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting fractions of a foot, and the measurement of the breadth and depth in feet and quarters of feet, rejecting portions of less than a quarter of a foot.

(c) In calculating the amount of toll to be levied, any portion of 100 maunds less than 10 maunds is to be omitted.

(d) In calculating the amount of toll to be levied on steamers, an allowance of one-third the total maundage, as found, under clauses (a), (b) and (c) is to be made for engine space.

3. Every vessel entering or passing along any of the above lines of navigation shall be furnished with a ticket on paying the prescribed toll. The ticket shall specify the station at which it has been issued, the name of the person in charge of the vessel, the date on which the voyage commenced, the point to which the vessel may proceed on the line of navigation, the maundage of the vessel, the amount of toll charged, the number of days allowed for the voyage, and the date of such last day. The number of days so allowed without additional payment shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every eight miles, or portion of eight miles, to be traversed, together with one day for every 200 maunds of measurement. In the case of rafts, one day for every five miles shall be allowed.

4. Toll may be paid at the first station, either for the entire number of toll-stations on the line of navigation or for any less number of stations.

5. The tickets thus given may be demanded for inspection by any duly authorised navigation officer, and must be kept on board and at hand for that purpose. They must be shown at each toll-station the vessel has to pass as a passport that no further payment of toll is to be demanded. The tickets shall be delivered up at the last toll-station.

Navigation officers shall have authority to check-measure vessels whenever they consider it necessary, and if the toll due according to the check-measurement exceeds that originally paid, the difference shall be payable at the toll-station of check-measurement, or at the next toll-station at which the vessel may arrive if the check-measurement was made at some point other than a toll-station. The officer collecting the difference shall endorse the ticket showing the measurements, and note the amount recovered in excess of the toll originally paid.

6. Owners or hirers of vessels may compound, by the payment of a fixed sum, for the use of the whole or any portion of the canals or any period that may be agreed upon, not exceeding one year. In such case the vessel shall be furnished with a ticket showing the amount of toll paid, the period for which the toll has been compounded, and the limits of the line of navigation within which the vessel may pass. Such ticket shall be kept on board the vessel, and shall be produced when required under rule 5, but shall be given up only on the date of the expiry of the period for which granted, and at the station from whence issued.

7. Duplicates of lost tickets of which the numbers and dates of entry can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the officers in charge of toll-stations on payment of a fee of one rupee.

8. Every vessel, which does not complete its voyage within the number of days allowed by rule 3, shall, for each day or part of a day in excess, be liable to an extra charge equal to 8 annas per 100 maunds, calculated on the maundage of the vessel, as determined by rule 2. The charge for demurrage on timbers and rafts shall be as follows:—

Timber in rafts or loose ...	One anna per timber per day.
Bamboos in floats ...	Two annas per 100 per day.
Bullahs in rafts ...	Eight annas per 100 per day.

Provided as follows:—

(1) Exemption from payment of demurrage may be granted to vessels detained in canal by stress of weather or heavy traffic, steamers broken down and boats damaged, if immediate notice of the cause of detention be given at the nearest toll-station for the information of the Executive Engineer.

(2) Missionary boats are exempted from payment of demurrage for lying in the canals.

(3) Partial exemption from payment of demurrage is to be granted to boats thus:—

(a) by increasing the allowance of time for the voyage (see rule 3), which shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every 8 miles or portion of 8 miles to be traversed, together with one day for every 200 maunds of measurement or any portion of 200 maunds which is not less than 60 maunds (N.B.—from 60 to 190 maunds one day shall be allowed);

(b) by granting the following extra times for the purpose of bona-fide loading and unloading in the canals to—

	Days.
Cargo boats from 10 to 100 maunds of measurement ...	5
" " from 110 to 200 maunds	8
" " from 210 to 300 maunds	10
" " from 310 to 400 maunds	12
" " of 410 maunds and upwards	14
Passenger boats of 10 maunds and upwards ...	3

The extra times will be granted to boats which either load or unload or both in the canals, but will not apply to boats which both enter and leave the canal empty, the time allowed being as laid down in rule 3 only.

(c) Boats plying in the Balighye main and branch drains will be allowed extra times as noted above for both journeys—entering and leaving—separately, even if plying empty.

9. Boats are allowed to be moored while waiting for cargo or otherwise, or may be loaded and unloaded, anywhere in the canals, except within 500 feet of any lock and within 150 feet on either side of any sluice and except where specially prohibited by the canal staff. In any case they must complete the voyage within the time allowable to them under these orders, otherwise demurrage will be charged.

10. No boat is permitted to moor in the outer channels of any lock. The channels to which this prohibition extends are as follows :—

Gewankhali.—Between the Gewankhali lock and the Gewankhali khal.
Etamagra.—Between the Etamagra lock and the Haldi river.
Terapakia.—Between the Terapakia lock and the Haldi river.
Kalinagar.—Between the Kalinagar lock and the Sadar khal.
Bhaitgar.—Between the Bhaitgar lock and the Rasulpur river.

No boats will be allowed, under any circumstances, to drop an anchor or to moor to both banks in any lock, entrance or in the canals, except in the case of severe stress of weather.

11. Except with the written permission of a navigation officer, no goods or cargo may be deposited on any bank, berm or land appertaining to the canal at places other than those notified by the Superintending Engineer of the circle as available for such a purpose. Any person depositing goods in contravention of this rule shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

12. Navigation officers may order consignors or consignees or owners to remove their goods from the places notified as available for depositing cargo under rule 11. Goods not finally removed within a period of six days from the receipt of such order shall be liable to a charge of four annas per 100 maunds for each day or part of a day after the expiry of six days until finally removed.

13. Any vessel whose extreme dimensions exceed 130 feet in length and 19 feet in breadth including goods overhanging is prohibited from entering or passing along the canals or a line of navigation without the special permission in writing of the Executive Engineer; also no vessel exceeding 40 feet in length and 8 feet in breadth including goods overhanging will be allowed to enter or pass along the Balighye drain from Chowmook to Tikrapara and the branch drain from Chowmook to the Balighye Road bridge.

14. It will not be compulsory for the locks to be opened to single vessels of less than 500 maunds burden, except in the case of mail or despatch boats or passenger or cargo-boats in tow of steam-vessels; but the locks shall be opened for the passage of boats at least twice a day.

15. Mooring.—All vessels stopping at night must be moored head and stern to the bank of the channel or wherever specially ordered.

Only one line of vessels shall be allowed to pass along a canal or to make fast along and in a line with the canal banks or along and in a line with the banks of the river entrance to the locks, and no vessel shall be made fast, or be placed outside of vessels so secured, without the permission of a navigation officer. No vessel shall, however, be placed in such a position as to endanger the safety of other vessels, to obstruct their passage, or to impede the navigation.

16. Rule of the Road.—When under sail, vessels are to keep in the centre of the channel. When being tracked, vessels are, wherever practicable, to keep to starboard or right side of the channel. Vessels meeting in a canal, except when being tracked, must keep to their right when passing, and when one vessel overtakes another, the former must pass on the left. When vessels, one of which is sailing and the other steaming, meet in a canal, the sailing vessel must keep to the leeward. A steamer passing any vessel is bound to go at a speed not greater than half speed.

17 Lights and signals.—All vessels, whether travelling or moored in a line of navigation, must, between sunset and sunrise, carry a white light, in a lantern on the forepart of the vessel where it can be distinctly seen from all sides. All steam-vessels in motion shall carry the lights prescribed by the Board of Trade Regulations. Barges or boats attached to a steam-vessel, whether in motion or moored, shall carry the white light prescribed above.

Where signals are used, no vessel shall enter or attempt to enter the entrance channel of a lock when a red flag or red light is displayed at the end of the lock next her. "but shall wait until the signal intimating 'all clear' is displayed." Steam-vessels approaching a lock shall whistle when a mile distant, and shall continue to whistle at intervals, until the signal intimating that the lock is open or closed is displayed, or, if no signals are used, until arrival.

18. Crews and Attendants.—Every vessel when stationary shall be securely fastened, and shall at all times have some person in attendance on board. Every vessel in motion shall have a sufficient crew.

19. Fittings.—Vessels must have their masts, high awnings, and funnels fitted so that they can be let down with ease and speed, and no bamboos or poles shall be erected on or by vessels when at anchor.

20. Conduct of navigation.—Vessels are prohibited from making fast to any portion of the lock-gates or gearing, and steamers are prohibited from making fast the tow-lines of their boats until the latter are clear of the locks. Steamers are prohibited from lashing boats or barges alongside while proceeding within locks. Towing ropes of a greater length than 50 feet are not to be used in a canal. The throwing of cinders into any canal is prohibited; they are to be deposited on the banks.

21. In every case of wreck or obstruction of the channel by sunken vessels, the Supervisor of the line of navigation or of a part of it may call upon the person in charge of the vessel to remove the same without delay, and shall give every reasonable assistance towards so doing. But should the owner of the vessel or raft be not forthcoming, or should he not use reasonable expedition in removing the obstruction, or should he decline or fail to use proper assistance which may be offered to him by the Supervisor, this officer may, under the provisions of section 14 of the Act, undertake the removal of the obstruction himself at the cost of the owner of the boat, recovering the expense in the manner laid down in section 9 of the "Canals Act, 1864".

In the case of emergency and in the temporary absence of the Supervisor from the place where the obstruction occurred any navigation officer present must at once report the matter to the Supervisor.

22. If the Supervisor be unable to ascertain the name and place of business or of abode of the owner of the cargo of any vessel or boats seized under the "Canals Act", he shall notify the seizure in the most public manner available.

23. In the event of any damage or injury being occasioned to the canal works by wilfulness or negligence on the part of any person in charge of a vessel, the navigation officers may detain the vessel at any point within the canal for a period not exceeding 48 hours; provided that, within that period, the navigation officers shall lodge a complaint against such person in charge of the vessel before a Magistrate under section 16 of the "Canals Act".

24. For any contravention of rules 15, 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20, the person in charge of the vessel shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

25. The term "navigation officers" as used in the foregoing rules shall include all persons appointed under section 8 of the "Canals Act, 1864", and all Public Works Officers or subordinates in charge of the canal not below the grade of Sub-Overseer.

26. The canals may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to them on one month's notice of the intention so to close them being given; but in the event of any sudden emergency, the canals may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such case by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention shall be entertained.

Admiralty,
13th April 1915.

The following despatch has been received from Rear-Admiral the Hon. Horace L. A. Hood, C.B., M.V.O., D.S.O., reporting the proceedings of the flotilla off the coast of Belgium between 17th October and 9th November 1914:—

Office of Rear-Admiral,
Dover Patrol,
11th November 1914.

Sir,—I have the honour to report the proceedings of the flotilla acting off the coast of Belgium, between October 17th and November 9th.

The flotilla was organised to prevent the movement of large bodies of German troops along the coast roads from Ostend to Nieuport, to support the left flank of the Belgian Army, and to prevent any movement by sea of the enemy's troops.

Operations commenced during the night of October 17th, when the "Attentive," flying my flag, accompanied by the monitors "Severn," "Humber" and "Mersey," the light cruiser "Foresight" and several torpedo-boat destroyers, arrived and anchored off Nieuport Pier.

Early on the morning of the 18th October information was received that German infantry were advancing on Westende village, and that a battery was in action at Westende Bains. The flotilla at once proceeded up past Westende and Middlekirke to draw the fire and endeavour to silence the guns.

A brisk shrapnel fire was opened from the shore, which was immediately replied to, and this commenced the naval operations on the coast which continued for more than three weeks without intermission.

During the first week the enemy's troops were endeavouring to push forward along the coast roads, and a large accumulation of transport existed within reach of the naval guns.

On October 18th machine guns from the "Severn" were landed at Nieuport to assist in the defence, and Lieutenant E. S. Wise fell, gallantly leading his men.

The "Amazon," flying my flag, was badly holed on the waterline and was sent to England for repairs, and during the early days most of the vessels suffered casualties, chiefly from shrapnel shell from the field guns of the enemy.

The presence of the ships on the coast soon caused alterations in the enemy's plans, less and less of their troops were seen, while more and more heavy guns were gradually mounted among the sand dunes that fringe the coast.

It soon became evident that more and heavier guns were required in the flotilla. The Scouts therefore returned to England, while H. M. S. "Venerable" and several older cruisers, sloops and gunboats arrived to carry on the operations.

Five French torpedo-boat destroyers were placed under my orders by Admiral Favereau, and on the 30th October I had the honour of hoisting my flag in the "Intrepide," and leading the French flotilla into action off Lombartzyde. The greatest harmony and enthusiasm existed between the allied flotillas.

As the heavier guns of the enemy came into play it was inevitable that the casualties of the flotilla increased, the most important being the disablement of the 6-inch turret and several shots on the waterline of the "Mersey," the death of the Commanding Officer and eight men and the disablement of 16 others in the "Falcon" which vessel came under a heavy fire when guarding the "Venerable" against submarine attack; the "Wildfire" and "Vestal" were badly holed, and a number of casualties caused in the "Brilliant" and "Rinaldo."

Enemy submarines were seen and torpedoes were fired, and during the latter part of the operations the work of the torpedo craft was chiefly confined to the protection of the larger ships.

It gradually became apparent that the rush of the enemy along the coast had been checked, that the operations were developing into a trench warfare, and that the work of the flotilla had for the moment ceased.

The arrival of allied reinforcements and the inundation of the country surrounding Nieuport rendered the further presence of the ships unnecessary.

The work of the squadron was much facilitated by the efforts of Colonel Bridges, attached to the Belgian Headquarters, and to him I am greatly indebted for his constant and unfailing support.

I would like especially to bring to your notice:—

Capitaine de fregate Richard, of the "Dunois," Senior Officer of the French flotilla, whose courtesy and gallantry assisted to make the operations a success.

Captain C. D. Johnson, M.V.O., in charge of 6th Destroyer Flotilla.

Commander Eric J. A. Fullerton, in command of the monitors, whose ships were constantly engaged in the inshore fighting.

Commander A. D. M. Cherry, of the "Vestal," who commanded the sloops, which were constantly engaged for the whole period. He remained in command of the flotilla after my departure on 7th November, and continued the bombardment on 8th November, returning to England the next day.

Commander H. C. Halahan, of the "Bustard," whose gunboat was constantly in action close to the shore.

Commander A. L. Snagge, of the "Humber."

Commander H. G. L. Oliphant, of the "Amazon."

Lieutenant-Commander R. A. Wilson, of the "Mersey."

Lieutenant-Commander G. L. D. Gibbs, of the "Crusader," in which ship my flag was hoisted during most of the operations.

Lieutenant-Commander J. B. Adams, R. N. R., on my staff.

Lieutenant H. O. Wanton, of the "Falcon," who maintained his position in a heavy fire on the look-out for submarines, and was unfortunately killed.

Lieutenant H. O. Joyce, of the "Vestal," who was badly wounded by a shell, but rallied his men to attend to the wounded, and then got his gun again into action.

Sub-Lieutenant C. J. H. DuBoulay, of the "Falcon," who took command of his ship after the Captain and 24 men were killed and wounded.

Petty-Officer Robert Chappell, O. N. 207788, of the "Falcon," who, though both legs were shattered and he was dying, continued to try and assist in the tending of the wounded. He shortly afterwards died of his wounds.

Petty-Officer Fredk. William Motteram, of the "Falcon," O.N. 183216, for immediate attention to the wounded under fire on 28th October.

Able Seaman Ernest Dimmock, of the "Falcon," O.N. 204549, who directly the casualties occurred in "Falcon," finding himself the only person unwounded on deck, went immediately to the helm and conned the ship.

Herbert Edward Sturman, of the "Mersey," Boy, 1st class O.N.J. 24887, who, when wounded by shrapnel, continued to serve the guns.

Leading Seaman John Thos. Knott, O.N.J. 1186, of the "Brilliant," who, when all men at this gun being killed or wounded, and himself severely wounded, endeavoured to fight his gun.

Supplement dated the 14th April 1915 to the "London Gazette" of the 13th April 1915.

From—The Field-Marshall Commanding-in-Chief, The British Army in the Field.
To—The Secretary of State for War, War Office, London, S. W.

General Headquarters,

5th April 1915.

MY LORD,

I have the honour to report the operations of the Forces under my command since the date of my last despatch, 2nd February 1915.

1. The event of chief interest and importance which has taken place is the victory achieved over the enemy at the Battle of Neuve Chapelle, which was fought on the 10th, 11th and 12th of March. The main attack was delivered by troops of the First Army under the command of General Sir Douglas Haig, supported by a large force of Heavy Artillery, a Division of Cavalry and some Infantry of the general reserve.

Secondary and holding attacks and demonstrations were made along the front of the Second Army under the direction of its Commander, General Sir Horace Smith-Dorrien.

Whilst the success attained was due to the magnificent bearing and indomitable courage displayed by the troops of the 4th and Indian Corps, I consider that the able and skilful dispositions, which were made by the General Officer Commanding First Army, contributed largely to the defeat of the enemy and to the capture of his position. The energy and vigour with which General Sir Douglas Haig handled his command show him to be a leader of great ability and power.

Another action of considerable importance was brought about by a surprise attack of the Germans made on the 14th March against the 27th Division holding the trenches east of St. Eloi. A large force of artillery was concentrated in this area under cover of mist, and a heavy volume of fire was suddenly brought to bear on the trenches at 5 P.M. This artillery attack was accompanied by two mine explosions; and, in the confusion caused by these and the suddenness of the attack, the position of St. Eloi was captured and held for some hours by the enemy.

Well directed and vigorous counter-attacks, in which the troops of the 5th Army Corps showed great bravery and determination, restored the situation by the evening of the 15th.

A more detailed account of these operations will appear in subsequent pages of this despatch.

2. On the 6th February a brilliant action by troops of the 1st Corps materially improved our position in the area south of the La Bassée Canal. During the previous night parties of Irish Guards and of the 3rd Battalion Coldstream Guards had succeeded in gaining ground whence converging fire could be directed on the flanks and rear of certain "brickstacks" occupied by the Germans, which had been for some time a source of considerable annoyance.

At 2 P.M. the affairs commenced with a severe bombardment of the "brickstacks" and the enemy's trenches. A brisk attack by the 3rd Coldstream Guards and Irish Guards from our trenches west of the "brickstacks" followed, and was supported by fire from the flanking positions which had been seized the previous night by the same regiments. The attack succeeded, the "brickstacks" were occupied without difficulty, and a line established north and south through a point about forty yards east of the "brickstacks."

The casualties suffered by the 5th Corps throughout the period under review, and particularly during the month of February, have been heavier than those in other parts of the line. I regret this; but I do not think, taking all the circumstances into consideration, that they were unduly numerous. The position then occupied by the 5th Corps has always been a very vulnerable part of our line; the ground is marshy, and trenches are most difficult to construct and maintain. The 27th and 28th Divisions of the 5th Corps have had no previous experience of European warfare, and a number of the units composing it had only recently returned from service in tropical climates. In consequence, the hardships of a rigorous winter campaign fell with greater weight upon these Divisions than upon any other in the command.

Chiefly owing to these causes, the 5th Corps, up to the beginning of March, was constantly engaged in counter-attack to retake trenches and ground which had been lost.

In their difficult and arduous task, however, the troops displayed the utmost gallantry and devotion; and it is most creditable to the skill and energy of their leaders that I am able to report how well they have surmounted all their difficulties, that the ground first taken over by them is still intact, and held with little greater loss than is incurred by troops in all other parts of the line.

On the 14th February the 82nd Brigade of the 27th Division was driven from its trenches east of St. Eloi; but by 7 A.M., on the 15th all these trenches had been recaptured, fifteen prisoners taken, and sixty German dead counted in front of the trenches. Similarly in the 28th Division trenches were lost by the 85th Brigade and retaken the following night.

During the month of February the enemy made several attempts to get through all along the line, but he was invariably repulsed with loss. A particularly vigorous attempt was made on the 17th February against the trenches held by the Indian Corps, but it was brilliantly repulsed.

On February 28th a successful minor attack was made on the enemy's trenches near St. Eloi by small parties of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry. The attack was divided into three small groups, the whole under the command of Lieutenant Crabbe: No. 1 Group under Lieutenant Papineau, No. 2 Group under Serjeant Patterson, and No. 3 Group under Company Serjeant-Major Lloyd.

The head of the party got within fifteeen or twenty yards of the German trench and charged; it was dark at the time (about 5-15 A.M.).

Lieutenant Crabbe, who showed the greatest dash and élan, took his party over everything in the trench until they had gone down it about eighty yards, when they were stopped by a barricade of sandbags and timber. This party, as well as the others, then pulled down the front face of the German parapet. A number of Germans were killed and wounded, and a few prisoners were taken.

The services performed by this distinguished corps have continued to be very valuable since I had occasion to refer to them in my last despatch. They have been most ably organised, trained and commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel F. D. Farquhar, D.S.O., who, I deeply regret to say, was killed while superintending some trench work on the 20th March. His loss will be deeply felt.

A very gallant attack was made by the 4th Battalion of the King's Royal Rifle Corps of the 80th Brigade on the enemy's trenches in the early hours of March 2nd. The Battalion was led by Major Widdrington, who launched it at 12-30 A.M. (he himself being wounded during its progress), covered by an extremely accurate and effective artilley fire. About sixty yards of the enemy's trench were cleared, but the attack was brought to a standstill by a very strong barricade, in attempting to storm which several casualties were incurred.

3. During the month of February I arranged with General Foch to render the 9th French Corps, holding the trenches on my left, some much-needed rest by sending the three Divisions of the British Cavalry Corps to hold a portion of the French trenches, each division for a period of ten days alternately.

It was very gratifying to me to note once again in this campaign the eager readiness which the Cavalry displayed to undertake a rôle which does not properly belong to them in order to support and assist their French comrades.

In carrying out this work leaders, officers and men displayed the same skill and energy which I have had reason to comment upon in former despatches.

The time passed by the Cavalry in the French trenches was, on the whole, quiet and uneventful, but there are one or two incidents calling for remark.

At about 1-45 A.M. on 16th February a half-hearted attack was made against the right of the line held by the 2nd Cavalry Division, but it was easily repulsed by rifle fire, and the enemy left several dead in front of the trenches. The attack was delivered against the second and third trenches from the right of the line of this Division.

At 6 A.M. on the 21st the enemy blew up one of the 2nd Cavalry Division trenches held by the 16th Lancers, and some adjoining French trenches. The enemy occupied forty yards of our trench and tried to advance, but were stopped. An immediate counter-attack by the supporting squadron was stopped by machine-gun fire. The line was established opposite the gap, and a counter-attack by two squadrons and one company of French reserve was ordered. At 5-30 P.M. 2nd Cavalry Division reported that the counter-attack did not succeed in retaking the trench blown in, but that a new line had been established forty yards in rear of it, and that there was no further activity on the part of the enemy. At 10 P.M. the situation was unchanged.

The Commander of the Indian Cavalry Corps expressed a strong desire that the troops under his command should gain some experience in trench warfare. Arrangements were made, therefore, with the General Officer Commanding the Indian Corps, in pursuance of which the various units of the Indian Cavalry Corps have from time to time taken a turn in the trenches, and have thereby gained some valuable experience.

4. About the end of February many vital considerations induced me to believe that a vigorous offensive movement by the Forces under my command should be planned and carried out at the earliest possible moment.

Amongst the more important reasons which convinced me of this necessity were:—The general aspect of the Allied situation throughout Europe, and particularly the marked success of the Russian Army in repelling the violent onslaughts of Marshal Von Hindenburg; the apparent weakening of the enemy in my front, and the necessity for assisting our Russian Allies to the utmost by holding as many hostile troops as possible in the Western Theatre; the efforts to this end which were being made by the French Forces at Arras and Champagne, and, perhaps the most weighty consideration of all, the need of fostering the offensive spirit in the troops under my command after the trying and possibly enervating experiences which they had gone through of a severe winter in the trenches.

In a former despatch I commented upon the difficulties and drawbacks which the winter weather in this climate imposes upon a vigorous offensive. Early in March these difficulties became greatly lessened by the drying up of the country and by spells of brighter weather.

I do not propose in this despatch to enter at length into the considerations which actuated me in deciding upon the plan, time and place of my attack, but Your Lordship is fully aware of these.

As mentioned above, the main attack was carried by units of the First Army, supported by troops of the Second Army and the general reserve.

The object of the main attack was to be the capture of the village of Neuve Chapelle and the enemy's position at that point, and the establishment of our line as far forward as possible to the east of that place.

The object, nature and scope of the attack, and instructions for the conduct of the operation were communicated by me to Sir Douglas Haig in a secret memorandum dated 19th February.

The main topographical feature of this part of the theatre is a marked ridge which runs south-west from a point two miles south-west of Lille to the village of Fournes, whence two spurs run out, one due west to a height known as Haut Pommereau, the other following the line of the main road to Illies.

The buildings of the village of Neuve Chapelle run along the Rue du Bois-Fauquisart Road. There is a triangle of roads just north of the village. This area consists of a few big houses, with walls, gardens, orchard, etc., and here with the aid of numerous machine guns, the enemy had established a strong post which flanked the approaches to the village.

The Bois du Biez, which lies roughly south-east of the village of Neuve Chapelle, influenced the course of this operation.

Full instructions as to assisting and supporting the attack were issued to the Second Army.

The battle opened at 7-30 A.M. on the 10th March by a powerful artillery bombardment of enemy's position at Neuve Chapelle. The artillery bombardment had been well prepared and was most effective, except on the extreme northern portion of the front of attack.

At 8-5 A.M. the 23rd (left) and 25th (right) Brigades of the 8th Division assaulted the German trenches on the north-west of the village.

At the same hour the Garhwal Brigade of the Meerut Division, which occupied the position to the south of Neuve Chapelle, assaulted the German trenches in its front.

The Garhwal Brigade and the 25th Brigade carried the enemy's lines of entrenchments where the wire entanglements had been almost entirely swept away by our shrapnel fire. The 23rd Brigade, however, on the north-east was held up by the wire entanglements, which were not sufficiently cut.

At 8-5 A.M. the artillery turned on to Neuve Chapelle, and at 8-35 A.M. the advance of the infantry was continued.

The 25th and Garhwal Brigade pushed on eastward and north-eastward, respectively, and succeeded in getting a footing in the village. The 23rd Brigade was still held up in front of the enemy's wire entanglements, and could not progress. Heavy losses were suffered, especially in the Middlesex Regiment and the Scottish Rifles. The progress, however, of the 25th Brigade into Neuve Chapelle immediately to the south of the 23rd Brigade had the effect of turning the southern flank of the enemy's defences in front of the 23rd Brigade.

This fact, combined with powerful artillery support, enabled the 23rd Brigade to get forward between 10 and 11 A.M., and by 11 A.M. the whole of the village of Neuve Chapelle and the roads leading northward and south-westward from the eastern end of that village were in our hands.

During this time our artillery completely cut off the village and the surrounding country from any German reinforcements which could be thrown into the fight to restore the situation by means of a curtain of shrapnel fire. Prisoners subsequently reported that all attempts at reinforcing the front line were checked.

Steps were at once taken to consolidate the position won.

Considerable delay occurred after the capture of the Neuve Chapelle position. The infantry was greatly disorganised by the violent nature of the attack and by its passage through the enemy's trenches and the buildings of the village. It was necessary to get units to some extent together before pushing on. The telephonic communication being cut by the enemy's fire rendered communication between front and rear most difficult. The fact of the left of the 23rd Brigade having been held up had kept back the 8th Division, and had involved a portion of the 25th Brigade in fighting to the north out of its proper direction of advance. All this required adjustment. An orchard held by the enemy north of Neuve Chapelle also threatened the flank of an advance towards the Aubers Ridge.

I am of opinion that this delay would not have occurred had the clearly expressed order of the General Officer Commanding First Army been more carefully observed.

The difficulties above enumerated might have been overcome at an earlier period of the day if the General Officer Commanding 4th Corps had been able to bring his reserve brigades more speedily into action.

As it was, the further advance did not commence before 3-30 P. M.

The 21st Brigade was able to form up in the open on the left without a shot being fired at it, thus showing that at the time the enemy's resistance had been paralysed. The Brigade pushed forward in the direction of Moulin Du Pietre.

At first it made good progress, but was subsequently held up by the machine-gun fire from the houses and from a defended work in the line of the German entrenchments opposite the right of the 22nd Brigade.

Further to the south the 24th Brigade, which had been directed on Pietre, was similarly held up by machine-guns in the houses and trenches at the road junction six hundred yards north-west of Pietre.

The 25th Brigade, on the right of the 24th, was also held up by machine-guns from a bridge held by the Germans, over the River Des Layes, which is situated to the north-west of the Bois Du Biez.

Whilst two brigades of the Meerut Division were establishing themselves on the new line, the Dehra Dun Brigade, supported by the Jullundur Brigade of the Lahore Division, moved to the attack of the Bois Du Biez, but were held up on the line of the River Des Layes by the German post at the bridge which enfiladed them and brought them to a standstill.

The defended bridge over the River Des Layes and its neighbourhood immediately assumed considerable importance. Whilst artillery fire was brought to bear, as far as circumstances would permit, on this point, Sir Douglas Haig directed the 1st Corps to despatch one or more battalions of the 1st Brigade in support of the troops attacking the Bridge. Three battalions were thus sent to Richebourg St. Vaast. Darkness coming on, and the enemy having brought up reinforcements, no further progress could be made, and the Indian Corps and 4th Corps proceeded to consolidate the position they had gained.

Whilst the operations which I have thus briefly recorded were going on, the 1st Corps, in accordance with orders, delivered an attack in the morning from Givenchy, simultaneously with that against Neuve Chapelle; but, as the enemy's wire was insufficiently cut, very little progress could be made, and the troops at this point did little more than hold fast the Germans in front of them.

On the following day, March 11th, the attack was renewed by the 4th and Indian Corps, but it was soon seen that a further advance would be impossible until the artillery had dealt effectively with the various houses and defended localities which held up the troops along the entire front. Efforts were made to direct the artillery fire accordingly; but owing to the weather conditions, which did not permit of aerial observation, and the fact that nearly all the telephonic communications between the artillery observers and their batteries had been cut, it was impossible to do so with sufficient accuracy. Even when our troops which were pressing forward occupied a house here and there, it was not possible to stop our artillery fire, and the infantry had to be withdrawn.

The two principal points which barred the advance were the same as on the preceding day—namely, the enemy's position about Moulin de Pietre and at the bridge over the River Des Layes.

On the 12th March the same unfavourable conditions as regards weather prevailed, and hampered artillery action.

Although the 4th and Indian Corps most gallantly attempted to capture the strongly fortified positions in their front, they were unable to maintain themselves, although they succeeded in holding them for some hours.

Operations on this day were chiefly remarkable for the violent counter-attacks, supported by artillery, which were delivered by the Germans, and the ease with which they were repulsed.

As most of the objects for which the operations had been undertaken had been attained and as there were reasons why I considered it inadvisable to continue the attack at that time, I directed Sir Douglas Haig on the night of the 12th to hold and consolidate the ground which had been gained by the 4th and Indian Corps, and to suspend further offensive operations for the present.

On the morning of the 12th I informed the General Officer Commanding 1st Army that he could call on the 2nd Cavalry Division, under General Gough, for immediate support in the event of the successes of the First Army opening up opportunities for its favourable employment. This Division and a Brigade of the North Midland Division, which was temporarily attached to it, was moved forward for this purpose.

The 5th Cavalry Brigade, under Sir Philip Chetwode, reached the Rue Bacquerot at 4 P.M. with a view to rendering immediate support; but he was informed by the General Officer Commanding 4th Corps that the situation was not so favourable as he had hoped it would be and that no further action by the cavarly was advisable.

General Gough's command, therefore, retired to Estaires.

The artillery of all kinds was handled with the utmost energy and skill, and rendered invaluable support in the prosecution of the attack.

The losses during these three days' fighting were, I regret to say, very severe, numbering—190 officers and 2,337 other ranks, killed.

359 officers and 8,174 other ranks, wounded, 23 officers and 1,728 other ranks missing.

But the results attained were, in my opinion, wide and far reaching.

The enemy left several thousand dead on the battlefield which were seen and counted; and we have positive information that upwards of 12,000 wounded were removed to the north-east and east by train.

Thirty officers and 1,657 other ranks of the enemy were captured.

I can best express my estimate of this battle by quoting an extract from a Special Order of the Day which I addressed to Sir Douglas Haig and the First Army at its conclusion.

> "I am anxious to express to you personally my warmest appreciation of the skilful manner in which you have carried out your orders, and my fervent and most heartfelt appreciation of the magnicent gallantry and devoted, tenacious courage displayed by all ranks whom you have ably led to success and victory."

5. Some operations in the nature of holding attacks, carried out by troops of the Second Army, were instrumental in keeping the enemy in front of them occupied, and preventing reinforcements being sent from those portions of the front to the main point of attack.

At 12-30 A. M. on the 12th March the 17th Infantry Brigade of the 4th Division, 3rd Corps, engaged in an attack on the enemy which resulted in the capture of the village of L'Epinette and adjacent farms.

Supported by a brisk fire from the 18th Infantry Brigade, the 17th Infantry Brigade, detailed for the attack assaulted in two columns converging, and obtained the first houses of the village without much loss. The remainder of the village was very heavily wired, and the enemy got away by means of communication trenches while our men were cutting through the wire.

The enemy suffered considerable loss; our casualties being 5 officers and 30 other ranks, killed and wounded.

The results of this operation was that an advance of 300 yards was made on a front of half a mile.

All attempts to retake this position have been repulsed with heavy loss to the enemy.

The General Officer Commanding the Second Corps arranged for an attack on a part of the enemy's position to the south-west of the village of Wytschaete which he had timed to commence at 10 A.M., on the 12th March. Owing to dense fog, the assault could not be made until 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

It was then commenced by the Wiltshire and Worcestershire Regiments, but was so hampered by the mist and the approach of darkness that nothing more was effected than holding the enemy to his ground.

The action of St. Eloi referred to in the first paragraph of this despatch commenced at 5 P.M. on the 14th March by a very heavy cannonade which was directed against our trenches in front of St. Eloi, the village itself and the approaches to it. There is a large mound lying to the south-east of the village. When the artillery attack was at its height a mine was exploded under this mound, and a strong hostile infantry attack was immediately launched against the trenches and the mound.

Our artillery opened fire at once, as well as our infantry, and inflicted considerable losses on the enemy during their advance: but, chiefly owing to the explosion of the mine and the surprise of the overwhelming artillery attack, the enemy's infantry had penetrated the first line of trenches at some points. As a consequence the garrisons of other works which had successfully resisted the assault were enfiladed and forced to retire just before it turned dark.

A counter-attack was at once organised by the General Officer Commanding 82nd Brigade, under the orders of the General Officer Commanding 27th Division, who brought up a reserve brigade to support it.

The attack was launched at 2 A.M. and the 82nd Brigade succeeded in recapturing the portion of the village of St. Eloi which was in the hands of the enemy and a portion of the trenches east of it. At 3 A.M. the 80th Brigade in support took more trenches to the east and west of the village.

The counter attack, which was well carried out under difficult conditions, resulted in the recapture of all lost ground of material importance.

It is satisfactory to be able to record that, though the troops occupying the first line of trenches were at first overwhelmed, they afterwards behaved very gallantly in the counter-attack for the recovery of the lost ground: and the following units earned and received the special commendation of the Army Commander:—The 2nd Royal Irish Fusiliers, the 2nd Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, the 1st Leinster Regiment, the 4th Rifle Brigade and the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

A vigorous attack made by the enemy on the 17th to recapture these trenches was repulsed with great loss.

Throughout the period under review night enterprises by smaller or larger patrols which were laid with consummate skill and daring, have been very active along the whole line.

A moral superiority has thus been established, and valuable information has been collected.

I cannot speak too highly of the invincible courage and the remarkable resource displayed by these patrols.

The troops of the 3rd Corps have particularly impressed me by their conduct of these operations.

6. The work of the Royal Flying Corps throughout this period, and specially during the operations of the 10th, 11th, and 12th March, was of the greatest value. Though the weather on March 10th and on the subsequent days was very unfavourable for ærial work, on account of low-lying clouds and mist, a remarkable number of hours' flying of a most valuable character were effected, and continuous and close reconnaissance was maintained over the enemy's front.

In addition to the work of reconnaissance and observation of artillery fire, the Royal Flying Corps was charged with the special duty of hampering the enemy's movements by destroying various points on his communications. The railways at Menin, Courtrai, Don and Douai were attacked, and it is known that very extensive damage was effected at certain of these places. Part of a troop train was hit by a bomb, a wireless installation near Lille is believed to have been effectively destroyed, and a house in which the enemy had installed one of his Headquarters was set on fire. These afford other instances of successful operations of this character. Most of the objectives mentioned were attacked at a height of only 100 to 150 feet. In one case the pilot descended to about 50 feet above the point he was attacking.

Certain new and important forms of activity, which it is undesirable to specify, have been initiated and pushed forward with much vigour and success.

There have been only eight days during the period under review on which reconnaissances have not been made. A total of approximately 130,000 miles have been flown—almost entirely over the enemy's lines.

No great activity has been shown over our troops on the part of the enemy's aircraft, but they have been attacked whenever and wherever met with, and usually forced down or made to seek refuge in their own lines.

7. In my last despatch I referred to the remarkable promptitude and rapidity with which reinforcements arrived in this country from England. In connection with this it is of interest to call attention to the fact that, in spite of the heavy casualties incurred in the fighting between the 10th and 15th March, all deficiencies, both in officers and rank and file, were made good within a few days of the conclusion of the battle.

The drafts for the Indian Contingents have much improved of late, and are now quite satisfactory.

Since the date of my last report the general health of the Army has been excellent, enteric has decreased, and there has been no recurrence on any appreciable scale of the "foot" trouble which appeared so threatening in December and January.

These results are due to the skill and energy which have characterised in a marked degree the work of the Royal Army Medical Corps throughout the campaign, under the able supervision of Surgeon-General T. J. O'Donnell, D.S.O., Deputy Director-General, Medical Services. But much credit is also due to Divisional, Brigade, Regimental and Company Commanders for the close supervision which has been kept over the health of their men by seeing that the precautions laid down for the troops before entering and after leaving the trenches are duly observed, and by the estabishment and efficient maintenance of bathing-places and wash-houses, and by the ingenious means universally employed throughout the Forces to maintain the cleanliness of the men, having regard both to their bodies and their clothing.

I have inspected most of these houses and establishments, and consider them models of careful organisation and supervision.

I would particularly comment upon the energy displayed by the Royal Army Medical Crops in the scientific efforts they have made to discover and check disease in its earliest stages by a system of experimental research, which I think has never before been so fully developed in the field.

In this work they have been ably assisted by those distinguished members of the medical profession who are now employed as Military Medical Officers, and whose invaluable services I gratefully acknowledge.

The actual strength of the Force in the field has been increased and the health of the troops improved by a system of "convalescent" hospitals.

In these establishments slight wounds and minor ailments are treated, and men requiring attention and rest are received.

By these means efficient soldiers, whose services would otherwise be lost for a long time, are kept in the country, whilst a large number of men are given immediate relief and rest when they require it without removing them from the area of operations.

This adds materially to the fighting efficiency of the Forces.

The principal convalescent hospital is at St. Omer. It was started and organised by Colonel A. F. L. Bate, Army Medical Service, whose zeal, energy and organising power have rendered it a model hospital of its kind, and this example has materially assisted in the efficient organisation of similar smaller establishments at every Divisional Headquarters.

8. I have already commented upon the number and severity of the casualties in action which have occurred in the period under report. Here once again I have to draw attention to the excellent work done by Surgeon-General O'Donnell, and his officers. No organisation could excel the efficiency of the arrangements—whether in regard to time, space, care and comfort, or transport—which are made for the speedy evacuation of the wounded.

I wish particularly to express my deep sense of the loss incurred by the Army in general, and by the Forces in France in particular, in the death of Brigadier-General J. E. Gough, V.C., C.M.G., A.D.C., late Brigadier-General, General Staff, First Army, which occurred on 22nd February as a result of a severe wound received on the 20th February when inspecting the trenches of the 4th Corps.

I always regarded General Gough as one of our most promising military leaders of the future. His services as a Staff Officer throughout the campaign have been invaluable, and I had already brought his name before Your Lordship for immediate promotion.

I can well understand how deeply these casualties are felt by the nation at large, but each daily report shows clearly that they are being endured on at least an equal scale by all the combatants engaged throughout Europe, friends and foes alike.

In war as it is to-day between civilised nations, armed to the teeth with the present deadly rifle and machine-gun, heavy casualties are absolutely unavoidable. For the slightest undue exposure the heaviest toll is exacted.

The power of defence conferred by modern weapons is the main cause of the long duration of the battles of the present day, and it is this fact which mainly accounts for such loss and waste of life.

Both one and the other can, however, be shortened and lessened if attacks can be supported by the most efficient and powerful force of artillery available; but an almost unlimited supply of ammunition is necessary and a most liberal discretionary power as to its use must be given to the Artillery Commanders.

I am confident that this is the only means by which great results can be obtained with a minimum of loss.

9. On the 15th February the Canadian Division began to arrive in this country. I inspected the Division, which was under the command of Lieutenant-General E A. H. Alderson, C.B., on 20th February.

They presented a splendid and most soldier-like appearance on parade. The men were of good physique, hard and fit. I judged by what I saw of them that they were well trained, and quite able to take their places in the line of battle.

Since then the Division has thoroughly justified the good opinion I formed of it.

The troops of the Canadian Division were first attached for a few days by brigades for training in the 3rd Corps trenches under Lieutenant-General Sir William Pulteney, who gave me such an excellent report of their efficiency that I was able to employ them in the trenches early in March.

During the Battle of Neuve Chapelle they held a part of the line allotted to the First Army, and, although they were not actually engaged in the main attack, they rendered valuable help by keeping the enemy actively employed in front of their trenches.

All the soldiers of Canada serving in the Army under my command have so far splendidly upheld the traditions of the Empire, and will, I feel sure, prove to be a great source of additional strength to the forces in this country.

In former despatches I have been able to comment very favourably upon the conduct and bearing of the Territorial Forces throughout the operations in which they have been engaged.

As time goes on, and I see more and more of their work, whether in the trenches or engaged in more active operations, I am still further impressed with their value.

Several battalions were engaged in the most critical moments of the heavy fighting which occured in the middle of March, and they acquitted themselves with the utmost credit.

Up till lately the troops of the Territorial Force in this country were only employed by battalions, but for some weeks past I have seen formed divisions working together, and I have every hope that their employment in the larger units will prove as successful as in the smaller.

These opinions are fully borne out by the result of the close inspection which I have recently made of the North Midland Division, under Major-General Hon. Montagu-Stuart-Wortley, and the 2nd London Division under Major-General Barter

10. General Baron Von Kaulbars, of the Russian General Staff, arrived at my headquarters on the 18th March. He was anxious to study our aviation system, and I gave him every opportunity of doing so.

The Bishop of London arrived here with his Chaplain on Saturday, March 27th, and left on Monday, April 5th.

During the course of his visit to the Army His Lordship was at the front every day, and I think I am right in saying that there was scarcely a unit in the command which was not at one time or another present at his services or addresses.

Personal fatigue and even danger were completely ignored by His Lordship. The Bishop held several services virtually under shell fire, and it was with difficulty that he could be prevented from carrying on his Ministrations under rifle fire in the trenches.

I am anxious to place on record my deep sense of the good effect produced thoroughout the Army by this self sacrificing devotion on the part of the Bishop of London, to whom I feel personally very deeply indebted.

I have once more to remark upon the devotion to duty, courage and contempt of danger which has characterised the work of the Chaplains of the Army throughout this campaign.

11. The increased strength of the Force and the gradual exhaustion of the local resources have necessitated a corresponding increase in our demands on the Line of Communications, since we are now compelled to import many articles which in the early stages could be obtained by local purchase. The Directorates concerned have, however, been carefully watching the situation, and all the Administrative Services on the Line of Communications have continued to work with smoothness and regularity, in spite of the increased pressure thrown upon them. In this connection I wish to bring to notice the good service which has been rendered by the Staff of the Base Ports.

The work of the Railway Transport Department has been excellently carried out, and I take this opportunity of expressing my appreciation of the valuable service rendered by the French railway authorities generally, and specially by Colonel Ragueneau, late Directeur des Chemins de Fer Lieutenant-Colonel Le Hénaff, Directeur des Chemins de Fer, Lieutenant-Colonel Dumont, Commissaire Militaire, Chemin de Fer du Nord, and Lieutenant-Colonel Frid, Commissaire Regulateur, Armée Anglaise.

The Army Postal Service has continued to work well, and at the present time a letter posted in London is delivered at General Headquarters or the Headquarters of the Armies and Army Corps on the following evening, and reaches an addressee in the trenches on the second day after posting. The delivery of parcels has also been accelerated, and is carried out with regularity and despatch,

12. His Majesty the King of the Belgians visited the British lines on February 8th and inspected some of the units in reserve behind the trenches

During the last two months I have been much indebted to His Majesty and his gallant Army for valuable assistance and co-operation in various ways.

13. His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales is the bearer of this despatch.

His Royal Highness continues to make most satisfactory progress. During the Battle of Neuve Chapelle he acted on my General Staff as a Liaison Officer. Reports from the General Officers Commanding Corps and Divisions to which he has been attached agree in commending the thoroughness in which he performs any work entrusted to him.

I have myself been very favourably impressed by the quickness with which His Royal Highness has acquired knowledge of the various branches of the service, and the deep interest he has always displayed in the comfort and welfare of the men.

His visits to the troops, both in the field and in hospitals, have been greatly appreciated by all ranks.

His Royal Highness did duty for a time in the trenches with the Battalion to which he belongs.

14. In connection with the Battle of Neuve Chapelle I desire to bring to Your Lordship's special notice the valuable services of General Sir Douglas Haig, K.C.B., K.C.I.E., K.C.V.O., A.D.C., Commanding the First Army.

I am also much indebted to the able and devoted assistance I have received from Lieutenant-General Sir William Robertson, K.C.B., K.C.V.O., D.S.O., Chief of the General Staff, in the direction of all the operations recorded in this despatch.

I have many other names to bring to notice for valuable, gallant and distinguished service during the period under review, and these will form the subject of a separate report at an early date.

I have the honour to be,

Your Lordship's most obedient Servant,

J. D. P. FRENCH,

Commanding-in-Chief,

BRITISH POSSESSIONS.

CAUTION WHEN APPROACHING BRITISH PORTS.

No. 115 (first publication).—The following particulars, etc., relative to the above, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 274 of 1915), are republished :—

PART I.

CLOSING OF PORTS.

Former Notices.—Nos. 1 and 101 of 1915 (This Office Nos. 45 and 73 of 1915); hereby cancelled.

(1) My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having taken into consideration the fact that it may be necessary to forbid all entrance to certain ports of the Empire, this is to give Notice that on approaching the shores of the United Kingdom, or any of the ports or localities of the British Empire, referred to in Part III of this Notice, a sharp look-out should be kept for the signals described in the following paragraph, and for the vessels mentioned in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice, and the distinguishing and other signals made by them. In the event of such signals being displayed, the port or locality should be approached with great caution, as it may be apprehended that obstructions may exist.

(2) If entrance to a port is prohibited, three red vertical lights by night, or three red vertical balls by day, will be exhibited in some conspicuous position, in or near to its approach, which signals will also be shown by the vessels indicated in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice.

If these signals are displayed, vessels must either proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

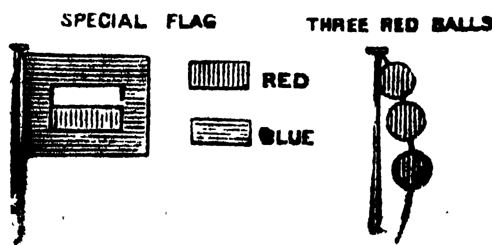
(3) At all the ports or localities at home or abroad referred to in Part III of this Notice, search-lights are occasionally exhibited for exercise.

Instructions have been given to avoid directing moveable search-lights during practice on to vessels under way, but mariners are warned that great care should be taken to keep a sharp look-out for the signals indicated in paragraph (2) above, when search-lights are observed to be working.

PART II.

EXAMINATION SERVICE.

(4) In certain circumstances it is also necessary to take special measures to examine vessels desiring to enter the ports or localities at home or abroad, referred to in Part III of this Notice.



(5) In such case, vessels carrying the distinguishing flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7) will be charged with the duty of examining ships which desire to enter the ports and of allotting positions in which they shall anchor. If Government vessels, or vessels belonging to the local port authority, are found patrolling in the offing, merchant vessels are advised to communicate with such vessels with a view to obtaining information as to the course on which they should approach the Examination Anchorage. Such communication will not be necessary in cases where the pilot on board has already received this information from the local authorities.

(6) As the institution of the Examination Service at any port will never be publicly advertised, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or night, to keep a sharp look-out for any vessel carrying the flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7), and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the firing of a gun or sound rocket.

In entering by night any of the ports mentioned in Part III, serious delay and risk will be avoided if four efficient all-round lamps, two red and two white, are kept available for use.

(7) By day the distinguishing flags of the Examination Steamer will be a special flag (white and red horizontal surrounded by a blue border) and a blue ensign.

Also, three red vertical balls if the port is closed.

By night the steamer will carry :—

(a) Three red vertical lights if the port is closed.
(b) Three white vertical lights if the port is open.

The above lights will be carried in addition to the ordinary navigation lights, and will show an unbroken light around the horizon.

(8) Masters are warned that, when approaching a British port where the Examination Service is in force, they must have the distinguishing signal of their vessel ready to hoist immediately the Examination Steamer makes the signal.

(9) Masters are warned that, before attempting to enter any of these ports when the Examination Service is in force, they must in their own interests strictly obey all instructions given to them by the Examination Steamer. In the absence of any instructions from the Examination Steamer they must proceed to the position marked "Examination Anchorage" on the Admiralty Charts and anchor there, or keep the sea.

Whilst at anchor in the Examination Anchorage, Masters are warned that they must not lower any boats (except to avoid accident), communicate with the shore, work cables, move the ship, or allow anyone to leave the ship, without permission from the Examination Steamer.

(10) In case of fog, Masters are enjoined to use the utmost care, and the Examination Anchorage itself should be approached with caution.

(11) Merchant vessels when approaching ports are especially cautioned against making use of private signals of any description, either by day or night: the use of them will render a vessel liable to be fired on.

(12) The pilots attached to the ports will be acquainted with the regulations to be followed.

PART IV.

SWEEPING OPERATIONS.

H.M. Vessels are constantly engaged in sweeping operations off ports in the United Kingdom.

Whilst so engaged, they work in pairs connected by a wire hawser, and are consequently hampered to a very considerable extent in their manœuvring powers.

With a view to indicating the nature of the work on which these vessels are engaged, they will show the following signals:—

A black ball at the foremast head and a similar ball at the yardarm, or where it can best be seen, on that side on which it is dangerous for vessels to pass.

For the public safety, all other vessels, whether steamers or sailing craft, must keep out of the way of vessels flying this signal, and should especially remember that it is dangerous to pass between the vessels of a pair.

LIBERALITY OF BABU KEDAR NATH BANERJEE OF BALTIKRI.

No. 34T.—Medl., dated Darjeeling, the 21st May 1915.

From—THE HON'BLE MR. J. DONALD, M.A., I.C.S., Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal Financial (Medical) Department,

To—The Commissioner of the Burdwan Division.

I AM directed to refer to your letter No. 242J.G.—II-7, dated the 8th May 1915, in which you report that Babu Kedar Nath Banerjee of Baltikri, in the district of Howrah, has now made an endowment of Rs. 42,000, yielding an annual income of Rs. 1,680, for the upkeep of the Charitable Dispensary at Baltikri, which was constructed from funds provided by that gentleman. The Governor in Council desires to express his high appreciation of the continued liberality and public spirit of Babu Kedar Nath Banerjee, and I am to request that you will be good enough to inform him accordingly.

RULES FOR THE GRANT OF MEDICAL CERTIFICATES.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

MEDICAL.

DARJEELING, THE 25TH MAY 1915.

RESOLUTION—No. 1088Medl.

READ—

(1) Resolution No. 4463Medl., dated the 23rd October 1914.

(2) Letter to the Surgeon-General with the Government of Bengal, No. 8047Medl., dated the 31st December 1914.

(3) Letter from the Port Officer of Calcutta, No. 13857, dated the 5th December 1915.

UNDER the orders contained in the Appendix to the Resolution cited in the preamble, the officers attached to the offices of the Military Secretary, the Private Secretary and the Surgeon to His Excellency the Governor of Bengal were allotted, for the purposes of medical certificates, to the Professor of Midwifery, Medical College, Calcutta. It has since been represented that this arrangement is inconvenient, as these officers, who belong to the personal staff of His Excellency and are required to tour throughout the Presidency, will not always be able to appear before the Professor of Midwifery when medical certificates are required. It has, therefore, been decided that the duty of granting medical certificates to the officers attached to those three offices should be transferred from the Professor of Midwifery to the Surgeon to His Excellency the Governor. It has also been urged that the arrangement by which members of the Pilot Service obtain medical certificates from the Professor of Clinical and Operative Surgery, Medical College, Calcutta, is inconvenient, being in conflict with the existing rules on the subject, and it has been found necessary to transfer the duty of granting medical certificates in the case of these officers to the Professor of Ophthalmic Surgery of the same College. Some corrections and additions to the appendix have been subsequently reported.

2. The Governor in Council is, therefore, pleased to direct that the annexed appendix, which has been revised in accordance with the above decisions and alterations, should be substituted for the appendix published with the Resolution cited in the preamble.

3. Opportunity has also been taken to revise rule I of the Rules published with the aforesaid Resolution and the Note thereunder, embodying certain additions and corrections. Rule I and the Note as now revised will read :—

RULES FOR THE GRANT OF MEDICAL CERTIFICATES.

I. The duty of granting medical certificates and of countersigning certificates, under articles 833 and 834 of the Civil Service Regulations, shall be performed by the Civil Surgeon of the district who will examine or countersign certificates relating to persons of all departments who belong to, or are employed in, his district. He shall on no account examine or countersign a certificate for a person attached to another district, except under the circumstances described in rule V. In Calcutta such duties shall be performed by the medical officer to whom the department to which the applicant belongs is allotted for the purpose. A list showing the departments allotted to each medical officer in Calcutta is appended to these rules.

This allotment will not, however, affect the right of any Gazetted Officer under the Governments of India and of Bengal resident in Calcutta, who is entitled to the attendance of a Presidency Surgeon, to call in for the purpose of treatment any Presidency Surgeon whom he chooses, except in cases in which special orders have been laid down limiting this right.

[Note.—Under the orders contained in Government Resolution No. 1096Medl., dated the 23rd July 1910, the countersignature of medical certificates by a Presidency Surgeon or by the officer in chief medical charge of the district has been dispensed with in cases of certificates given by the medical practitioners whose names appear in the List of Qualified Medical Practitioners in Bengal. The List of Qualified Medical Practitioners will eventually be replaced by the Annual List of Registered Medical Practitioners to be published under the Medical Act, 1914 (Bengal Act VI of 1914).]

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to all heads of departments for information and for communication to officers subordinate to them.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to all departments under this Government for information.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution be submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department for information.

Ordered also that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. DONALD,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

CALCUTTA,
The 24th May 1915.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS.

For the week ending on the 24th May 1915.

Summary.—During the week under review heavy rain fell in some of the Eastern Bengal districts; but the fall was light to moderate elsewhere. The sowing and weeding of aus paddy and jute continue; the operations are, however, nearly finished in the Eastern Bengal districts. Ploughing and manuring of fields for the next winter rice crop are in progress. The standing crops at Jessore and Jalpaiguri are reported to have suffered to some extent on account of the recent heavy rainfall: the prospects are good elsewhere. Cattle-disease is reported from thirteen districts. The average price of common rice for the Province has risen by about 0·6 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

DRAFT RULES FOR THE SUPPLY OF FILTERED WATER TO PRIVATE PREMISES IN THE BERHAMPORE MUNICIPALITY.

1. So long as the Commissioners deem it practicable and consistent with the maintenance of an efficient water-supply, they may allow any owner or occupier of a holding paying a water-rate imposed under the provisions of part VII of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, on the annual value of such holding when such annual value is not less than Rs. 100, to lay down communication-pipes from the service-pipes of the Commissioners for the purpose of leading water to such holding for domestic purposes only, subject to the following rules and conditions.

2. The owner or occupier of any holding requiring water to be laid on to such holding for domestic purposes, or requiring any addition or alteration to an existing water-supply, must apply for the same on a printed form to be supplied free of cost at the Municipal office.

3. A fee of Rs. 18 including Rs. 2 as inspection fee must be paid to the Commissioners by such owner or occupier for each holding connection before any work is commenced, such fee to be in addition to all other costs and charges imposed under these rules.

4. Each holding must have a separate connection and extensions from the communication-pipe of one holding to another shall not be permitted.

5. The owner or occupier of the holding in respect of which the connection is required, must pay the entire cost of the connection, including the supply and fixing of the fittings referred to in rule 7, and must also pay the cost of such alterations in, or repairs to, roads, drains, sewers, gas or water mains or pipes, and the cost of such other works as may be necessitated by, or result from, the work of making such connection.

6. (i) The work required may, at the option of the Commissioners, either be carried out by the Commissioners themselves at the expense of the owner or occupier of the holding in respect of which the work is required, or may be carried out by a person or firm employed by such owner or occupier and approved by the Commissioners.

(ii) The work must be done under the supervision of an officer appointed by the Commissioners in this behalf, and no connection must be made with the Municipal water-main except at such time as may be appointed, and in such position as may be selected by an authorised Municipal Officer.

7. A holding connection shall comprise the following parts or fittings :—

(a) A brass or gun-metal ferrule inserted in the main supply pipe;

(b) A galvanised iron communication-pipe from the ferrule to the meter;

9. The size of the ferrule referred to in clause (a) of rule 7 shall be decided by the Commissioners, but its diameter shall not differ from that of the communication-pipe referred to in clause (b) of that rule by more than ¼ inch.

10. (i) The diameter of the communication-pipe shall be determined with regard to the average pressure in the main supply-pipe at the point nearest the holding for which a connection is required, and to the quantity of water to be supplied.

(ii) The diameter of the communication-pipe shall be such that it will be capable of delivering the estimated daily supply in six hours.

(iii) The holding connection, when fitted in position, must be capable of standing a pressure of 100 feet, and no water shall be supplied until this test has been applied by the Commissioners.

11. (i) On every communication-pipe a brass or gun-metal stop-cock having the same water-way as such pipe shall be placed as near as practicable to the point where that pipe enters the holding to be supplied.

(ii) The stop-cock shall be built in a brick chamber provided with a cast iron surface cover-box so designed that it can be locked.

(iii) The stop-cock shall be capable of adjustment so that the supply to the holding may be regulated thereby.

Provided that the disconnection of such pipe shall not relieve any person from any liabilities which he may have incurred under these rules.

PROSPECTUS.

[APPROVED BY THE GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.]

ON the 2nd of July next, the Government of Bengal will open at Hastings House, Alipore, a residential school for the sons of Indian gentlemen. The Hastings House property has been placed by the Government of India at the temporary disposal of the Government of Bengal for this purpose.

Hastings House will provide accommodation for 50 boarders. The complete scheme which has now been sanctioned provisionally by the Secretary of State for India contemplates the admission of this number of boarders as a minimum and the engagement of a staff consisting of an English Head Master, with two English and six Indian Assistant Masters. The English Head Master and the two English Assistant Masters will reside on the premises.

Owing to difficulties which have arisen as a result of the war in Europe, it has been decided to make a start with a smaller staff and a reduced number of boys. Mr. W. F. Papworth, B.A. (University of London), has been engaged as an Assistant Master, and he, with the assistance of a staff of four Indian Assistant Masters, will start the school.

The school will be under the immediate supervision of the Director of Public Instruction. There will also be an Advisory Committee of Indian gentlemen.

The number of boarders to be admitted in July next will be restricted to an absolute maximum of 40. The original scheme provides for the education of boys from the age of 10 up to the age of 18, and directs that an age-limit of 10—13 years shall be observed in granting admission to new boys. It has been decided, however, that during the first three years of the school's existence, some latitude will be allowed in the matter of age-limits for admission. Preference will usually be given to those boys whose ages are within the limits specified in the original scheme, but it will for the present be within the discretion of the Assistant Master-in-charge to admit boys whose ages do not fall within these limits.

The school is to be essentially a boarding school, but, to start with, a few day scholars may be admitted with the special sanction of the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

Curriculum.—The medium of instruction will, in all cases, be English; but the study of the Vernacular and Classical Oriental Languages will form a compulsory part of the curriculum. The work of the school has been arranged to suit not only those boys who will ultimately proceed to British Universities, more especially Oxford or Cambridge, but also boys who will complete their studies at one of the Indian Universities. To secure both these aims it has been decided to adopt for the first few years the Cambridge University Local Examinations as the standard by which the school work may be gauged.

The school will be divided into Forms in the manner indicated below :—

LOWER SCHOOL—

Form I.

Form II.

UPPER SCHOOL—

Form III.

Form IV (Lower).

Form IV (Upper. Cambridge Junior Local Examination).

Form V.

Form VI (Cambridge Senior Local Examination).

The standard of work in the school will not be restricted to the requirements of the Cambridge Local Examinations. From the outset the curriculum will be directed with a view to taking the examinations of the Oxford and Cambridge Schools Examination Board for Lower and Higher Certificates, as soon as the necessary arrangements can be concluded with the Board in England.

Boys, whose parents or guardians desire it, will be sent up for the Matriculation Examination of the Calcutta University. In this connexion, however, it may be pointed out that the Cambridge Senior Local Examination, if passed under certain conditions, which include at present a course of further study for one year after the examination has been successfully taken, is recognized by the University of Calcutta as admitting students direct to the B.A. and B.Sc. courses. The rules which regulate the recognition of the Cambridge Local Examinations are now under consideration by the Syndicate, and the examinations of the Oxford and Cambridge Schools Examination Board have not yet come within the purview of the University of Calcutta. The Syndicate will be approached with reference to the recognition of the Higher Certificate awarded by the Oxford and Cambridge Schools Examination Board for the purposes of admission to Calcutta University courses. This certificate is accepted under certain conditions by the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge as exempting its holder from Responsions at Oxford or the Previous Examination at Cambridge.

The Assistant Master-in-charge desires to emphasize the fact that public examinations of the nature indicated above are valuable only in so far as they serve as a standard of the actual work of a school. These examinations will be taken as a matter of course at certain stages of the school curriculum; all the boys in Form IV (upper) and Form VI will, for example, be presented, so long as the Cambridge Local Examinations are taken, for the Cambridge Junior and Senior Local Examinations respectively. The private coaching of pupils of the school by members of the staff will not be allowed; but if the Assistant Master-in-charge considers that any particular boy requires additional tuition, he will make the necessary arrangements for this to be given by one or more of the masters of the school, who will not receive any remuneration for the extra work involved.

Fees.—For boarders Rs. 100 } a month, payable for 12 months.
For day boys .. 25 }

These fees include, in the case of boarders, tuition, board and lodging; in the case of day-boys, tuition.

There will be a further charge of Rs. 5 a month, payable for 12 months, to cover laundry, subscriptions for games, the supply of stationery and medical attendance. Day boys will be charged a sum of Rs. 2-8 a month, payable for 12 months, to cover games and stationery charges.

Bills and the payment of fees.—Bills will be sent out on the first day of each month and should be paid to the Assistant Master-in-charge before the fifteenth day of the same month. Parents and guardians are requested to note that the school fees and the charge for extras are annual charges paid in monthly instalments, and as such must be paid for every month of the year. When a boy is to be removed from the school, at least a month's notice of withdrawal should be given; in default of such notice a month's fee will be charged. The Assistant Master-in-charge trusts that parents and guardians will, as far as possible, refrain from withdrawing boys, except at the end of a term.

Pocket money.—Parents and guardians will be asked to state the amount of pocket money they wish their boy to receive. The amount agreed upon will be paid to the boys by the Assistant Master-in-charge. No boy in the Upper School will be allowed to have more than Re. 1-8 a week; and no boy in the Lower School more than annas 12 a week.

Subjects of study.—The following table shows the subjects which will be studied in each Form:—

FORMS I AND II.—English, Arithmetic, History, Geography, Drawing, Manual Instruction, Hygiene, Vernacular.*

FORM III.—English, History, Geography, Mathematics, Drawing, Manual Instruction, Sanskrit or Arabic, Hygiene, Vernacular.*

FORMS IV, V AND VI.—The same subjects with the addition of Latin. Pupils who do not take Latin will be given extra instruction in Sanskrit or Persian.

* The study of an Indian Vernacular will be compulsory in each Form

FORMATION OF THREE DISTRICTS OUT OF THE AREA COMPRISED WITHIN THE PRESENT DISTRICT OF MYMENSINGH.

CALCUTTA, THE 27TH MAY 1915.

RESOLUTION No. 6287P.

Resolution by the Government of Bengal, Political Department, No. 4346P., dated the 8th July 1912.

READ ALSO—

The Report of the Bengal District Administration Committee, 1913-14.

THE question of the administration of the district of Mymensingh has been before Government since the year 1876, and the problem of dividing it into manageable charges has become continually more urgent. The state of the case as it stood in 1912 was set out in the Resolution quoted above It was proposed to establish a new district, consisting of the existing subdivisions of Jamalpur and Tangail, with headquarters probably at Jamalpur. It was suggested that the remainder of the district might remain as one district, the creation of a third district being left to the future. Opinions were invited on this proposal. The matter was subsequently considered at a conference held at Mymensingh on the 24th July 1912. All parties at the conference agreed that some method of strengthening the administration of the district was absolutely necessary. A section of the educated Hindu community was, however, still opposed to any partition of the district, and was prepared to acquiesce in a scheme for the duplication of officers and the creation of more subdivisions. There was a consensus of opinion in favour of the extension of railway communications throughout the district; and many thought that the partition of the district might be deferred until the new railways had been opened and their effect had been observed. At a Durbar held at Dacca on the 28th July 1913, His Excellency the Governor made the announcement that his Government had come to the conclusion that in the public interests the partition of the district was necessary. He promised, however, that the public would again be consulted before a definite scheme was ultimately adopted.

2. The question has been further considered by the Bengal District Administration Committee, who are of opinion that the best possible scheme would be the division of the existing district into three, viz., (1) a south-eastern or Kishorganj district, (2) a western or Gopalpur district, and (3) a central and north-eastern district, with its headquarters at Mymensingh. The Committee propose that the Kishorganj district should be a compact area bounded by the Brahmaputra and the Meghna rivers on the east, south and west, with an area of 1,630 square miles and a population of 1,366,407, its headquarters being at Kishorganj. This proposed district would consist of three subdivisions which are detailed below:—

Proposed Kishorganj district.

Subdivision.	Police-station.	Population.	Area in square miles.
Sadar ...	Kishorganj ...	190,604	224
	Kathiari ...	178,430	173
	Total ...	369,034	397
Bhairab ...	Bhairab ...	53,513	70
	Bajitpur ...	155,645	220
	Astogram ...	97,897	130
	Badla ...	146,630	168
	Khaliajuri ...	39,763	61
	Total ...	493,448	649
Iswarganj ...	Iswarganj ...	195,786	204
	Kendua ...	175,868	267
	Nandail ...	132,271	113
	Total ...	503,925	584
	District Total (10) ...	1,366,407	1,630

After a careful examination of the relative merits of different sites for the headquarters of the three subdivisions in the district, the Committee recommend Kishorganj as the headquarters of the Sadar subdivision, and Bhairab and Iswarganj as the headquarters of the subdivisions of those names. The town of Bhairab, though not centrally situated, is considered by them to be more suitable than either Bajitpur or Nikhli, because the natural lines of communication converge on it. It is a steamer station and may soon become a railway terminus also. It is considered to be healthy and is the most important trade centre in the area.

3. The proposed new Mymensingh district, with an area of 2,610 square miles and a population of 1,421,490, would still be large. It would include three subdivisions, viz., (1) North Mymensingh or Phulpur, (2) South Mymensingh or Sadar, and (3) Netrakona, as detailed below :—

Proposed Mymensingh district.

Subdivision.	Police-station.	Population.	Area in square miles.
North Mymensingh or Phulpur.	Phulpur	215,129	231
	Haluaghat		167
	Nalitabari	124,553	285
	North Kotwali (approximate).	50,000	40
	Total ...	389,682	723
South Mymensingh or Sadar.	South Kotwali (approximate).	175,337	102
	Trisal		194
	Muktagacha ...	96,407	141
	Phulbaria	130,631	187
	Gafargaon	189,769	160
	Bhaluka		283
	Total ...	592,144	1,067
Netrakona ...	Netrakona	189,857	259
	Durgapur and Kalamakanda.	127,035	382
	Barhatta	122,772	179
	Total ...	439,664	820
	District Total (14) ...	1,421,490	2,610

The Committee think that the headquarters of the first two subdivisions may for the present both remain at Mymensingh, while Netrakona might be the headquarters of the new subdivision of that name.

4. The remaining portion of the existing district, consisting of its entire western side, would form the third proposed district. It would comprise the whole of the present Tangail and Jamalpur subdivisions, excluding the Nalitabari police-station. In selecting a site for the headquarters of this district, the Committee have carefully considered the relative claims of the towns of Tangail and Jamalpur. While the Tangail subdivision is the heavier and more important of the two, the town of Tangail is very unhealthy. If either Tangail or Jamalpur is chosen, the headquarters would be at one end of the district, and new subdivisional headquarters would be required in addition to the district headquarters. The Committee are therefore inclined to the suggestion that the headquarters should be located in the centre of the district within the jurisdiction of the Gopalpur police-station at a healthy place near the junction of the proposed railways from Jamalpur to Tangail and from Subarnakhali to Mymensingh. The exact situation of this place might be determined when the final alignment of those railway lines is settled. If, however, the choice is confined to the towns of Jamalpur and Tangail, the Committee unhesitatingly prefer the former. Meanwhile this proposed new district may be styled by the name of Gopalpur.

5. The third district would consist of three subdivisions. The northern part would form the Jamalpur subdivision with headquarters at Jamalpur, the central portion would be included in the Sadar subdivision, while the southern portion would constitute the new Tangail subdivision, as detailed below :—

Proposed Gopalpur district.

Subdivision.	Police-station	Population	Area in square miles.
Sadar ...	Sarisabari ...	79,905	113
	Gopalpur ...	218,232	273
	Kalihati ...	160,982	144
	Ghatail ...	95,196	85
	Total ...	554,315	615
Jamalpur ...	Jamalpur and Melandaha.	255,859	315
	Sherpur ...	179,658	268
	Dewanganj ...	177,553	262
	Madarganj ...	75,683	103
	Total ...	688,753	948
Tangail ...	Tangail, Basail ...	268,305	137, 94
	Mirzapur ...	108,781	100
	Nagarpur ...	118,371	115
	Total ...	495,457	446
	District Total (13) ...	1,738,525	2,009

6. The Governor in Council has reconsidered the whole question with great care. He has been much impressed by the arguments of the Committee regarding the urgent necessity of reorganizing the village systems throughout the province with the object of bringing the officers of Government into closer touch with the people. His Excellency in Council is persuaded that in no place is this reform more essential than in the existing district of Mymensingh, and he concurs in the fullest degree in the opinion expressed by the Committee that the reform of the village system has no real chance of success, unless not only the districts but also the subdivisions are of a manageable size. In other words, he has come to the conclusion that the proposal of 1912, as also the earlier proposal for the creation of two districts with joint headquarters at Mymensingh, would be an inadequate solution of the main problem, and would hamper the establishment of closer and more friendly relations between the rulers and the people. The Committee propose that the district of Mymensingh should be divided into three, and that at the same time the number of subdivisions should be raised from five to nine, three within each of the new districts. The general lines of division as indicated by the Committee commend themselves to His Excellency in Council, who desires, however, to give the public an opportunity of expressing their views on the scheme before it is further proceeded with.

7. In this connection mention may be made of the several schemes of railway extension which have been approved or are under contemplation, and which will increase the facilities of communication within the proposed districts. The construction, by private enterprise, of a line from Bhairab Bazar in the south of the proposed Kishorganj district, through Kishorganj and Iswarganj to Mymensingh, with a branch from Gauripur to Bagmara in the north of Netrakona subdivision, and another from Shamganj to Netrakona, has been approved. This line will traverse the new district of Kishorganj from north to south; and the headquarters of the proposed district, as well as of the two proposed subdivisions, viz., Iswarganj and Bhairab, will be directly on the line. The branch lines will link up Netrakona and the north of that subdivision with Mymensingh. On the western side of the existing district, the Railway Board have sanctioned a detailed survey, by the agency of the Eastern Bengal Railway Administration, for a metre gauge line of railway from Mymensingh to Tangail, with an extension to Porabari or Elashin; orders have also been issued for a reconnaissance survey of the area between the Jagannathganj-Mymensingh-Dacca Railway and the Brahmaputra river with a view to framing proposals for railway construction. This area includes a large part of the proposed Gopalpur district.

8. This review of the case is published with the object of enabling public associations and private persons interested in the scheme to formulate such criticism as will lead to the best possible solution of the problem, and His Excellency in Council will be glad to consider any expressions of opinion which may be communicated to him. All suggestions should be submitted within three months of the publication of this Resolution.

ORDER:—Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette and that it be forwarded to the Commissioner of the Dacca Division with the request that copies, both in English and in the vernacular, may be widely circulated within the Mymensingh district.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. H. KERR,

Offg. Chief Secy to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE BUDGET ESTIMATES OF THE COMMISSIONERS FOR THE PORT OF CALCUTTA FOR THE YEAR 1915-16.

No. 186T.—Marine.

Government of Bengal.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Darjeeling, the 27th May 1915.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Letter No. 14085, dated the 30th March 1915, from the Vice-Chairman, Port Commissioners, Calcutta, submitting the Budget Estimate of income and expenditure of the Port Trust for the year 1915-16.

CAPITAL ACCOUNT.

A PROVISION of Rs. 1,09,00,000 has been made by the Commissioners for expenditure on Capital account during the year 1915-16. This is practically limited to major works in connection with the Dock Extension Scheme. The charges will be met from—

	Rs.
The opening balance on Capital account ...	23,00,000
Estimated receipts from the debenture loan of 85 lakhs proposed to be raised during the year.	86,60,000
Total ...	1,09,60,000

The Port Facilities Enquiry Committee recommended the raising by the Commissioners of a loan of Rs. 2 crores—one crore during 1914-15 and the other crore during 1915-16—to meet the cost of the Capital works in connection with the Dock Extension Scheme. A loan of one crore, with the approval of the Government of India, was raised during 1914-15. The Commissioners now propose to raise a loan of Rs. 85 lakhs instead of one crore during 1915-16, and have provided for the necessary interest and sinking fund in the Budget under review. The Government of India is being addressed on the subject. A sum of Rs. 84,91,842 has been provided for expenditure on works in progress, Rs. 27,17,965 for new works, and the balance (Rs. 50,000) for unforeseen works. Provision has been made in the Budget for the following new works estimated to cost a lakh of rupees or more :—

	Rs.
Dock Extension Scheme—
New dock extension	12,00,000
Town Delivery Depòt—
Land acquisition at Beliaghata	10,00,000
Railway—
Subway under Howrah Bridge approach ...	1,87,285

REVENUE ACCOUNT.

2. Receipts.—The total revenue of the Trust has been estimated at Rs. 1,64,61,137, which includes a sum of Rs. 30,00,000 as estimated receipts from the war surtax, which has been imposed temporarily as an emergent measure of taxation to meet the loss of revenue of the port, due to decrease of traffic consequent upon the outbreak of war. The sources of revenue which have not been affected by the war are the "Petroleum Wharf," "Rentable Lands and Buildings," and "Ferry Service." The prospects of revenue under the "Sale Tea Warehouse" would appear to be good owing to the demand from Russian customers.

The Commissioners do not anticipate any immediate revival of trade

3. Expenditure.—The ordinary revenue expenditure of the Trust has been estimated at Rs. 89,62,549 as against Rs. 94,89,546, the estimate for last year. The Commissioners have carefully examined the main heads of expenditure, viz., "Establishment" "Maintenance and Repairs," "Labour and Stores," and reductions have been effected as far as practicable under each of these heads. The payment on account of interest and sinking fund charges has been estimated at Rs. 66,67,723 as against last year's estimate of Rs. 63,11,244. The total estimated expenditure of the Trust during the year under review amounts to Rs. 1,56,30,272 as compared with Rs. 1,58,00,790, the estimate for 1914-15. The year 1915-16 is expected to close with a surplus of Rs. 8,30,865 under Revenue account.

The Commissioners have not taken into account the reduction of expenditure of about Rs. 2 lakhs which is expected to result from the acceptance of their proposal, which was supported by the Port Facilities Enquiry Committee, to charge during progress of construction the interest on the capital expended to Capital account This proposal has been submitted to the Government of India for sanction.

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 31st May 1915.

Summary.—During the week under report heavy rain fell only in Mymensingh, but the fall was light to moderate in the rest of the province. Ploughing of fields for winter rice is in progress. The sowing of autumn crops has almost been finished. The weeding of aus paddy and jute is being hampered in places by excessive rain. The standing crops in Mymensingh and in some of the Northern Bengal districts have somewhat suffered for the same reason; elsewhere the prospects are good. Cattle-disease is reported from eleven districts. The average price of common rice for the province has risen by about 0·5 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

RULES FOR THE MANAGEMENT OF HOSPITALS AND [DISPEN]SARIES UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF THE GOVE[RNMENT] OF BENGAL.

PRELIMINARY.

IN these rules—

"Local authority" and "Local Fund" defined.

(a) "Local authority" means any body of persons for the time being invested by law with the control and administration of any matters within a specified local area. It includes a Joint Committee under section 30 and a Local Board under section 101 of Bengal Act III of 1885.

(b) "Local Fund" means any fund under the control or management of a local authority.

CLASSIFICATION.

Classification of hospitals and dispensaries.

RULE I.—Hospitals and dispensaries under Government supervision are divided into the following classes:—

Class I. State.—Public hospitals and dispensaries. Class II. State.—Special hospitals and dispensaries. (i) Police. (ii) Forest and Surveys. (iii) Canals. (iv) Others.	These include all institutions maintained by Provincial Funds and under Government management. (The fact that an institution possesses endowments or receives contributions from local funds or private subscriptions should not be regarded as a reason for not classing it as "State," so long as Provincial and Imperial Funds are ultimately responsible for all the charges connected with it). Class I.—"Public" are State dispensaries which are open to the poorer classes of the public. Class II.—"Special" are State dispensaries which serve only a special section of the public, as indicated in the sub-classification attached.

Class III—Local Fund Hospitals and Dispensaries—includes all institutions which are vested in local authorities, or guaranteed or maintained by local funds. The fact that such an institution is aided by private subscriptions or receives assistance from Government in the shape of part of the salary of the Medical Officer, grants of medicine or otherwise, should not be regarded as a reason for not classing it as a Local Fund Dispensary so long as its existence is ultimately dependent upon local funds.

Class IV—Private aided Hospitals and Dispensaries—comprises institutions supported by private subscriptions or guarantee, but receiving aid from Government or local funds.

Class V—Private non-aided Hospitals and Dispensaries—comprises institutions maintained entirely at the cost of private individuals or associations. The fact that Government supplies superior inspection or registers and forms should not be regarded as a reason for not treating it as a private non-aided dispensary.

Class VI—Railway Hospitals and Dispensaries—comprises all railway institutions, whether maintained by State Railways or others.

When the amount at credit of the dispensary exceeds Rs. 200 the Comptroller-General shall ordinarily be asked to invest the whole or part of it in Government securities. No other mode of investment will be allowed without the previous sanction of Government. The proprietors of dispensaries in class V may, however, adopt any form of investment so far as the funds of their institution are concerned.

RULE 27.—In the case of institutions in class III, the endowments and subsequent investments, which must be made in Government securities, shall be held in the custody of the Accountant-General apart from the assets of the Local Fund. RULE 28.—Dispensaries in class III are subdivided for purposes of account into two classes: Class III-A—Dispensaries for which separate banking accounts are allowed to be opened in the treasury with the sanction of Government; and Class III-B—Dispensaries for which separate accounts are not allowed at the treasury, but the funds of which are kept under the direct control of the local authority.

(a) CLASS III A—DISPENSARIES.

Preparation of dispensary budgets.

(1) (a) The Managing Committee shall annually prepare a budget estimate of the probable income and expenditure of the dispensary for the ensuing financial year arranged according to the headings given in Statement H of the Annual Return (B. C. M. D. Form No. 22), and submit it for approval to the local authority on a date fixed by that authority.

(b) No expenditure under any head in excess of the amount sanctioned in the budget estimates shall be incurred by the Dispensary Committee. If it is found necessary to meet excess expenditure under any one head either from anticipated savings under another, or from increased receipts from subscriptions or other special sources, or from the accumulated balance, an application for reappropriation or an additional budget grant, as the case may be, with a clear explanation of the necessity for additional expenditure, shall be submitted to the local authority, but the expenditure proposed shall not be incurred before receipt of their orders.

Method of keeping accounts where separate banking account is opened in treasury.

(2) All subscriptions and donations shall be collected by the Managing Committee and shall be paid into the treasury for credit to the Dispensary Fund. The income from endowments and investments shall, however, be realized by the local authority, and shall be remitted by it to the treasury for credit to the Dispensary Fund, an advice being sent at the same time to the Managing Committee. If any cheques for remittance orders are received, they shall be sent intact to the treasury for per contra credit to the Dispensary Fund.

(3) All claims shall be discharged either by payments from the imprest placed by the Committee in the hands of the Medical Officers in charge, or by cheques drawn by the Secretary or the Chairman upon the treasury in favour of the actual payees. The imprest in the hands of the Medical Officer shall not ordinarily exceed Rs. 50 in the case of sadar dispensaries, and Rs. 25 in the case of other dispensaries.

If it is necessary for the local authority to make a contribution to supplement the dispensary funds, such contribution shall be paid in quarterly instalments on the first day of each quarter by cheques which should be made payable by transfer to the credit of the dispensary account in the treasury, intimation at the same time being sent to the Secretary or Chairman of the Committee. These amounts will be credited in the cash-book of the Managing Committee as contribution from the local authority by per contra debit as remitted to the treasury. The entry in the cash-book shall however not be made until the treasury chalan is received.

(4) The Managing Committee shall keep a cash-book in B. C. M. D. Form No. 7 in which shall be entered all receipts and payments with necessary details as soon as the transactions occur. The cheque on which the imprest in the hands of the Medical Officer is drawn shall be charged off as an advance, and the imprest shall be recouped from time to time by presentations of bills supported by the payees' receipts to the Secretary. The amount of each recoupment shall always exceed Rs. 10. The cash-book shall be closed every month, and a memorandum recorded reconciling the balance with that shown in the pass-book. Care must be taken not to mix up final payments with advances which should be clearly shown as such. The payment vouchers must be carefully preserved for production at the time of audit.

The transactions of the Dispensary Fund with the treasury will be shown in a pass-book, which will be supplied gratis by the treasury. The pass-book shall be closed and balanced at the end of every month. It shall be examined by the Secretary of the Committee every time that it is received back from the treasury, to see that all the transactions have been duly entered therein. At the close of every month the treasury officer will prepare a memorandum showing the opening balances, monthly receipts and payments and the closing balances of the several dispensary funds banking with the treasury, and enter this memorandum in the pass-books of the local authority to which the dispensaries belong to enable it to verify the balances.

(5) Dispensary establishments paid from funds vested in the local authority should be sanctioned in the same way as other establishments under that authority, but temporary appointments or other special charges, paid out of subscriptions and donations, may be created by the Managing Committee without such sanction, provided there is provision in the budget.

(6) The dispensary accounts will be annually audited by the Examiner of Local Accounts.

(b) CLASS III-B—DISPENSARIES.

Preparation of dispensary budget.

(1) The Managing Committee shall annually prepare a budget estimate of the probable income and expenditure of the dispensary for the ensuing financial year arranged according to the headings given in annual Statement H (B. C. M. D. Form No. 22) and submit it to the local authority on a date fixed by that authority. No expenditure shall be incurred in excess of the amounts sanctioned, unless previous sanction has been obtained to either a reappropriation of grants or an additional grant obtained from the local authority.

Method of keeping accounts where funds are under direct control of local authority

(2) As regards these dispensaries the interest on the investments will be accounted for by the local authority direct. But all donations and subscriptions will be collected by the Managing Committee and paid into the Savings Bank at the Post Office. The account shall be in the name of the Chairman or Secretary of the Committee. The whole amount collected shall be sent intact to the Savings Bank. Amounts required for expenditure may be withdrawn according to requirements, but there shall be in support of each payment a duly vouched bill passed by either the Chairman or Secretary, and the total expenditure under any head in the budget shall not be exceeded without the sanction of the local authority. The Dispensary Committee shall maintain a subscription register in B. C. M. D. Form No. 6, in which the initials or signature of the donor must be taken. The collections of the month shall be totalled from this register or the Savings Bank Pass-Book and the total entered on the receipt side of the cash-book (B. C. M. D. Form No. 8). Interest allowed by the Post Office shall be shown against "Miscellaneous."

(3) All claims in respect of these institutions shall be either paid from the imprest in the hands of the Medical Officer in charge or from the money withdrawn according to requirements from the Savings Bank or discharged by the local authority concerned on bills duly passed by the Managing Committee by issue of cheques upon the treasury. The Medical Officer shall from time to time present bills in recoupment of his imprest supported by payee's receipts. Payments met by withdrawal from the Savings Bank or by cheque from the parent local body shall be entered on the payment side of the cash-book (B. C. M. D. Form No. 8), in the appropriate column.

Payments met out of the imprest shall be recorded in an Imprest Register (B. C. M. D. Form No. 60). Charges to be ultimately recouped by the local body shall be entered in the appropriate column under the heading "Payable by Local Body," and charges to be recouped by withdrawal from Savings Bank shall be entered in the appropriate column under the heading "Payable from Savings Bank." Whenever the imprest runs low and always at the end of the month, two recoupment bills will be prepared—one for payment by the local body and one for withdrawal from the Savings Bank. The sub-vouchers appertaining to the former shall be submitted with the bill to the local body. The totals under each column of the Imprest Register will be entered in the corresponding column of the cash-book when the recoupment bills are cashed.

(4) The Managing Committee shall, by the 4th of each month, submit a copy of the cash-book for the previous month, with all vouchers, to the local body for verification and incorporation in their accounts.

(5) The amount of monthly subscriptions guaranteed by the local people when starting the dispensary shall be paid to the local body every month. The payment shall be entered in column 16 of the payment side of the cash-book and shall also be entered on the receipt side against the head "Guaranteed subscription paid to local body," a corresponding deduction being made under the head "Receipts."

These shall be written up daily by the Medical Officer in charge, and shall be open at all times to the inspection of inspecting officers.

RULE 35.—A visitors' book shall be kept in every hospital and dispensary in which will be recorded the remarks of visitors. A copy of these remarks shall be forwarded within twenty-four hours to the Superintendent who will, if necessary,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Draft Rules.

1. Every vessel passing through the line of navigation known as the Madaripur Bhil channel shall stop at the prescribed toll-stations notified in the Schedule II attached for the purpose of assessment, or check, of toll charges.

2. For the purposes of these rules, vessels other than rafts, timbers, bamboos or other floating material shall be divided into two classes as below:—

Class I.—To include all vessels of the usual native types of build.

Class II.—To include all steamers, flats and barges, and such other square-built boats as should, in the opinion of the Collector of Tolls, be included.

3. The net tonnage of every vessel of class I, whether laden or empty shall, for the purposes of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

(A) The product of one-quarter the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water-line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the interior greatest depth from the water-line to the bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which toll shall be levied.

(B) The measurement of the length is [illegible] made in feet, rejecting inches; the measurement [illegible]eadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarte[illegible]t, rejecting portions of less than a quarter of a foot.

(C) The maundage on which tonnage shall be charged shall be a simple multiple of 12½ maunds, rejecting any remainder by which the maundage, calculated as above, may exceed such simple multiple.

4. For vessels in class II the tonnage shall be determined as follows:—

The tonnage of steamers shall be the registered tonnage as given in the certificate of survey of the steamer.

Toll shall be levied on the actual weight of cargo carried on steamers, flats, barges and other vessels included in this class, as declared in the manifests.

When the registered tonnage of a steamer, or the manifest for cargo of a flat is not available, the tonnage will be taken as arrived at under rule 3.

For square-built boats the total maundage, as determined under rules for class I, shall be increased by half, and for steamers one-third of the total maundage shall be deducted for engine space.

5. Every vessel except as exempted under rule 10 shall be furnished at the toll-station of entry with a ticket on which the name of the serang manjhi or other person in charge of the vessel, the date of entry, the maundage of the vessel, the nature and weight of the cargo it contains, the amount of toll charged and the number of days for which the ticket will remain current shall be entered.

6. This ticket may be demanded and checked by any navigation officer while the vessel is within the toll-limits of the Bhil channel and must be kept on board and at hand for that purpose. The ticket must be given up at the exit toll-station. If the ticket is not produced on demand by a canal officer, such officer shall assess the amount of toll payable and the vessel will be liable to seizure and detention under the provisions of section 9 of the Act until such sum is realized.

7. Vessels leaving the channel between two toll-stations shall obtain a permit for so doing in Form No. 1 from the Toll Collector of the toll-station of entry. In such cases the Toll Collector will issue a ticket in the usual form and also collect the same before the vessel is permitted to proceed.

8. A vessel, which has been detained under these rules or under section 9 of the Act, may not be removed from the channel without the order of the Collector of tolls until the toll due has been paid. During such detention the manjhi, owner or agent must make arrangements for the safety of the vessel and cargo.

9. All tolls are payable on demand and shall be paid at the toll-station before a vessel is permitted to proceed. Provided that the Collector of tolls appointed under section 8 of the Act may, at his discretion, permit vessels belonging to individuals or firms of recognised standing to proceed without prepayment, on an undertaking that the bills for tollage due shall be liquidated monthly on presentation.

10. (I) In the case of steamers and flats falling under the latter portion of rule 9 a copy of the traffic manifest must be handed in at the exit toll-station, a receipt for which in Form No. 2 will be issued by the Toll Collector to the person in charge of the vessel, in such cases no ticket in the usual form will be issued. If the trffic manifest is not produced at the exit toll-station the procedure as laid down in rules 6 and 8 will be adopted

(II) The traffic manifest or the receipt for the same may be demanded by any navigation officer while the vessel is within the limits of the Bhil channels between the Manickdah entrance and Chur Maguria.

11. The term "Navigation officer" as used in rule 6 shall include the Collector of tolls appointed under section 8 of the Act, and the officer, or the subordinate duly authorised by such officer of the Public Works Department in charge of the subdivision or section within which the channel is situated.

12. Duplicates of lost tickets will be granted by the Toll Collector who originally issued the ticket on payment of a fee of one-fourth of the amount of toll payable, subject to a maximum of one rupee and a minimum of four annas. The duplicate will be issued only when the Toll Collector is satisfied concerning the identity of the boat.

13. No person shall wilfully or negligently allow a vessel to sink in the channel.

14. (1) In every case [illegible]ken vessel, whether due to negligence or otherwise, the Supervisor and his subordinates shall offer every assistance in removing the same.

(2) If, three days after the occurrence of a wreck, it is seen that prompt measures are not being taken by the owner to remove the sunken vessel from the line of navigation, the Supervisor and his subordinates shall make their own arrangements for the removal of the same at the expense of the owner, provided that when the wreck obstructs the fairway they shall take action at once to remove the same.

15. When a sunken vessel has been recovered, the Supervisor shall cause notices to be posted at the toll offices, or other prominent places, calling on those concerned to pay to the Collector of tolls all toll or demurrage which may be due, as well as the expenses incurred in the recovery of the vessel and cargo. Should the sum due be not paid within fifteen days of the date of notice, the boat and its furniture, or so much of it as may be necessary for the recovery of the dues, will be sold under the procedure directed in section 9 of the Act.

16. The purchaser of a vessel sold under the provisions of section 9 of the Act shall have the right to take it out of the channel on the day of purchase, or within such time as may be allowed by the Collector of tolls, without payment of tolls.

17. When any laden vessel, which has sunk, has been recovered, or when any laden vessel has been seized under the provisions of the Act or of these rules, the Supervisor shall give immediate notice of the recovery or seizure to the owner of the cargo or his agent, requiring the removal of the cargo without delay, and informing him that he will be required to pay all expenses necessary for the proper custody and storage of the cargo until removed.

18. If the Supervisor be unable to ascertain the name and place of business or the abode of the owner of the cargo of such vessel, the notice prescribed in rule 16 shall be effected by a notice exhibited in his office, and by advertisement in at least one English and one vernacular Calcutta and local newspaper.

19. Lights and Signals.—All vessels, whether travelling or moored in the channel, must, between sunset and sunrise, carry a white light in a lantern on the fore-part of the vessel where it can be distinctly seen from all sides. All steam-vessels in motion shall carry the lights prescribed by the Board of Trade regulations. Barges or boats attached to a steam-vessel, whether in motion or moored, shall carry the light prescribed in the first paragraph of this rule.

20. Every vessel proceeding in the channel must limit her speed to six miles an hour from the 15th October to the 10th July, and to eight miles an hour from the 11th July to the 14th October.

21. For any infringement of rule 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 13, 14, 15, 17, 19 or 20 the person in charge of the vessel or other persons in fault shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50 or Rs. 5 a day for any continuing infringement.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Education (Municipalities).

Local Self-Government Policy of the Government of India.

Historical retrospect

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT as a conscious process of administrative devolution and political education dates, outside presidency towns, from the financial reforms of Lord Mayo's Government. Consultative committees had indeed been appointed in various towns in 1850, and measures were taken in 1864 and following years to give effect to the recommendations of the report of the Royal Army Sanitary Commission, which was published in 1863, but no comprehensive scheme was introduced until the years following 1870. Legislation affecting several provinces was then undertaken. Lord Ripon's Government in 1882 carried still further the principles of local self-government with the object, by measures cautiously but substantially progressive, of inducing the people themselves to undertake, as far as might be and subject to necessary control from without, the management of their own local affairs, and of developing and creating, if need be, a capacity for self-help in respect of all matters that had not, for administrative reasons, to be retained in the hands of a representative of Government. Various Acts were passed by which the elective principle, financial independence and the reduction of official control were given a wide extension. In two Resolutions Nos. $\frac{1}{146-164}$, dated the 24th October 1896, and Nos. 18—37, dated the 20th August 1897, respectively, Lord Elgin's Government again reviewed the subject and laid down further conditions of progress. Important principles have, from time to time, been considered by the Government of India in connection with the revision of Local Self-Government Acts and otherwise, and recently the whole field of policy has, in their survey of Indian administration, been ably and exhaustively reviewed by the Royal Commission upon Decentralization.

Substantial progress

2. The Governor-General in Council is glad to be assured by the report of the Commission and the opinions of local Governments and Administrations upon it that the results have on the whole justified the policy out of which local self-government arose. The degree of success varies from province to province and from one part of a province to another, but there is definite and satisfactory evidence of the growth of a feeling of good citizenship, particularly in the towns. The spread of education is largely responsible for the quickening of a sense of responsibility and improvements in the machinery. In certain provinces beneficial results have followed the elaboration of a system of local audit. On all sides there are signs of vitality and growth.

Future general policy.

3. The obstacles in the way of realising completely the ideals which have prompted action in the past are still, however, by no means inconsiderable. The smallness and inelasticity of local revenues, the difficulty of devising further forms of taxation, the indifference still prevailing in many places towards all forms of public life, the continued unwillingness of many Indian gentlemen to submit to the troubles, expense and inconveniences of election, the unfitness of some of those whom these obstacles do not deter, the prevalence of sectarian animosities, the varying character of the municipal area, all these are causes which cannot but impede the free and full development of local self-government. The growing demand among the educated classes in towns for greater efficiency, involving more direct expert control, in matters affecting public health and education, is a further influence of a different character. A similar tendency, it may be observed, is discernible in England and in other European countries, the Governments of which have shown a growing disposition to place on central authorities the duty of stimulating and encouraging local bodies in cases of default or deficiency on their part, and to give to the former powers of intervention and, in case of need, of actual supersession of the latter. These and similar considerations indicate the need for caution in delegating powers to non-official bodies, when they are not as yet adapted nor prepared for them. But, on the whole, the Government of India declare unhesitatingly in favour of a general policy of further progress, limited only by such conditions as local circumstances may dictate. Uniformity, even were it attainable, would be undesirable as tending to monotony, lifelessness and discouragement of new experiments. But, in fact, any attempt to exact uniformity in local administration would be foredoomed to failure. In each province, sometimes in each part of a province, the administrative system has grown up on lines of its own with reference to local needs and the wishes and abilities of the people. On a review of all the circumstances, the Government of India have decided to accept in almost every case the conclusion of the local Government or Administration as to the degree of progress possible at the present time. But in the more backward provinces in particular, it is their conviction that there is room for advance, and that the aim to be steadily pursued is abstention from interference in detail and increased reliance on the non-official element in local bodies.

Reforms accepted by local Governments.

4. Local Governments and Administrations in general are prepared to advance in the direction of the main recommendations of the Commission. They propose in varying degrees to expand the electoral element in the constitution of local bodies, to extend the employment of non-official chairmen in municipalities, to allow local bodies more ample control of budgets and freer powers of reappropriation, to concede increased authority to local bodies over establishments, and to relax existing restrictions in regard to outside sanction for expenditure on works of importance. These changes will mark a real and immediate extension of the principles of local self-government.

5. The Government of India now propose to state the principal conclusions that have been reached after full discussion in the public press, in debates of the Legislative Councils, and in consultation with local Governments and, in certain matters, with His Majesty's Secretary of State, on the questions that arise respecting (1) towns, (2) districts, (3) villages or other small local areas; in other words, in relation to (1) municipal boards, (2) district and sub-district boards, and (3) panchayats or other unions. In each case they will consider the constitution of the local body, its ability to tax and its powers in regard to its budget and its establishment. Finally, they will deal with the recommendations of the Commission in connection with presidency towns and Rangoon.

MUNICIPAL BOARDS.

Elective majority

6. The Commission recommended that municipal boards should ordinarily be constituted on the basis of a substantial elective majority, and that nominated members should be limited to a number sufficient to provide for the due representation of minorities and official experience. This recommendation has already been adopted in several provinces and is generally accepted by local Governments and the Government of India, subject to the proviso that the principle should in places, where its success is doubtful, be introduced gradually and after experiment in selected municipalities.

Chairmen.

7. The Commission also proposed that the municipal chairman should usually be an elected non-official, that Government officers should not be allowed to stand for election, and that where a nominated chairman might still be required he should be an official. The following statistics show how in the different provinces chairmen of municipalities are at present secured :—

Number of chairmen of municipalities, elected and nominated, officials and non-officials.

Non-official chairmen.

8. The majority of local Governments are in favour of substituting, so far as possible, non-official for official chairmen, and the Government of India are in full sympathy with the proposal. The increasing burden of administration, apart from other considerations, renders it desirable that the district officer should be relieved of the executive control of municipal bodies. The Governor-General in Council recognises, however, that the change must be made gradually, and that in the absence of suitable candidates, it may not be possible to make it finally and once for all in particular places. He agrees with the opinion expressed in several quarters that discretion should be reserved to a local Government to nominate a non-official as chairman. Many gentlemen of influence, well fitted to be chairmen of boards, are not prepared to offer themselves for election, and insistence on election as the only alternative to the nomination of an official would unnecessarily narrow the field of choice. Nor does it appear necessary to prohibit boards under any circumstances from electing an official as their chairman. It may be desirable, however, to require the election of an official as chairman to be confirmed by the Commissioner or even higher authority.

The Bombay system in larger municipalities.

9. The Commission suggested that some of the largest cities should adopt the system in force in Bombay city, where there is an elected chairman, who is the official mouthpiece of the corporation as a whole, the executive administration, however, vesting in a full-time nominated official subject to the control of the corporation and of a standing committee thereof. In the Bombay District Municipal Act, 1901, also there are provisions under which a Chief Officer can be appointed by a city municipality, on its own initiative or at the instance of the Governor in Council. The Governor in Council may also appoint an executive officer known as the Municipal Commissioner for any municipal district which contains one hundred thousand inhabitants, or for any other municipal district on the application of the municipality, provided that such application has been previously supported by not less than two-thirds of the whole body of councillors. A Municipal Commissioner has in some respects more extensive powers than a Chief Officer. Under this arrangement the direction of the general policy of a municipality vests in the whole body of councillors, while the executive power, with certain reservations, vests in the Municipal Commissioner. The municipal committee may cause him to furnish any returns and reports on matters appertaining to municipal administration and they retain financial control. The Chief Officer or Municipal Commissioner is not removeable, except by order of the Governor in Council, or by the vote of three-fourths of the whole number of councillors. These officers exercise certain executive powers specifically conferred on them by the Municipal Act, and such other powers as may be delegated to them under the provisions of the Act; and the Governor in Council may require that they shall be invested with any powers which can be lawfully delegated. The system works well in Bombay. The Government of India do not desire to press for its adoption in provinces where it may not be suited to the local conditions. They are, however, of opinion that it has the advantages of ensuring a continuous and strong executive administration by an efficient paid staff, while maintaining the corporate control and activity of the municipal board. It is in fact not dissimilar to the system in force in England. They commend it to local Governments as a means of overcoming, at any rate in large cities, the difficulties inherent in the introduction of the important changes contemplated, especially when non-official chairmen are busy professional men. In smaller towns they suggest that the object aimed at might be attained by the wider delegation of executive functions to responsible secretaries, engineers and health officers, and that power to enforce such delegation might be secured by legislation.

Financial resources.

10. The aggregate income of 701 municipalities in existence at the close of 1912-1913 (excluding the presidency towns and Rangoon) amounted to £3,282,845 (Rs. 4,92,42,675) apart from loans, sales of securities and other extraordinary receipts, or an average of about £4,683 (Rs. 70,245) a year. Taxation.

11. The taxes, tolls and fees which may ordinarily be levied by municipalities are provided for in the municipal enactments in force in the different provinces. They are imposed in most cases with the previous sanction of the local Government concerned and within the limits laid down in the Acts. They usually take one or other of the following forms:—

(1) Tax on arts, professions, trades, callings, offices and appointments.

(2) Tax on buildings, lands and holdings.

(3) Water, drainage, sewage, conservancy, scavenging and lighting tax.

(4) Tax on vehicles, boats, palanquins and animals kept for use or used within municipal limits.

(5) Tax on circumstances and property.

(6) Tax on private menials and domestic servants.

(7) Tax on private markets.

(8) Octroi on animals or goods or both, brought within municipal limits for consumption or use.

(9) Tolls on vehicles and animals entering municipal limits, and tolls on ferries, bridges and metalled roads.

(10) Fees on the registration of cattle sold within municipal limits and of carts and other vehicles.

The taxes provided for in the Acts vary, however, in the different provinces, and not all these taxes are actually levied in any one province. Any tax other than those specified in the Acts, which is proposed to be levied, ordinarily requires and should continue to require the sanction of the Governor-General in Council.

12. The most important taxes now in force are octroi duties levied principally in Bombay, the United Provinces, the Punjab, the Central Provinces and the North-West Frontier Province, and the tax on houses and lands which holds the chief place in the other provinces as well as in Bombay city.

Octroi and the terminal tax.

13. The octroi system in the existing circumstances of the country has certain obvious advantages. As a tax octroi is productive and grows with the prosperity of the town. Its imposition is sanctioned by immemorial usage, and the people are habituated to the system by long custom. The tax is usually paid in small amounts and the effect of the payment is not generally felt as a burden. On the other hand, there is no doubt that it provides constant opportunities for fraud, delay and oppression owing to the necessity of entrusting large discretionary powers to a subordinate agency, that it is expensive to collect and wasteful and, finally, that in many places it constitutes a serious burden on trade in general, and in particular on through trade, notwithstanding the provision made for refunds. On the recommendation of a strong representative committee and the local Government the Government of India have sanctioned an experiment in the United Provinces, which involves (a) the substitution of direct taxation for octroi in the smaller towns, and (b) the application to a large number of other towns in which conditions are suitable of the system of a terminal tax, or light transit dues on imports or exports, subject to no refunds. The Government of the United Provinces considers that some of the main benefits of such a system, and in particular a reduction of the high cost of collection, can only be secured if the tax is collected through the agency of the railway companies, who should be adequately remunerated for their services. The Government of India are prepared to facilitate negotiations to this end. The Government of Bombay have assented to the tentative replacement of octroi by a terminal tax in a few municipalities selected from those desirous of making the experiment. The question is under consideration or experiment in other provinces also. The Government of India, while adhering to the principle that municipal taxation should not operate, so far as can be avoided, as a transit duty on through trade, are prepared to concede that a light terminal tax with no refunds may in practice prove less burdensome to through trade than the octroi system as hitherto administered, provided that the following conditions are observed—viz., (1) that the terminal tax, wherever imposed, should be substantially lower in its rates than the octroi which it replaces, (2) that it should be limited to places where there are special grounds for applying it, which must be adequately demonstrated, (3) that it should be regarded as facilitating the transition to a system in which direct taxation will form an increasingly important factor, and not as an elastic means of progressively increasing the resources of municipalities apart from normal development due to increase of traffic, and (4) that it should not be adjusted with the primary object of compensating municipalities for the loss of octroi.

House and land tax.

14. The house and land tax is the chief source of municipal income in Madras, Bengal, Burma, Bihar and Orissa, and Assam, and it has been imposed with some success in portions of Northern India. This tax, however, is difficult of assessment, in many places where it is the custom to own rather than to rent dwelling houses, because in such cases the house affords no indication of the financial status of the owner. Many aristocratic but impoverished families live in large buildings which are merely relics of vanished prosperity, while the rich trader often remains content with the humble dwelling in which he was born. There is, however, a growing tendency on the part of the professional and trading classes to spend a larger proportion of their incomes on securing sanitary accommodation, so that it is reasonable to anticipate that the house-tax revenue will gradually expand and will generally be contributed by those best able to pay. The technical and administrative difficulties of assessment have in places been overcome by entrusting the preparation and periodic revision of registers to outside agency.

Tax on professions and trades.

15. A tax on professions and trades yields a considerable revenue in certain provinces, e.g., £17,239 (Rs. 2,58,591) in Madras, £4,697 (Rs. 70,465) in Bengal, £14,106 (Rs. 2,11,599) in the United Provinces, and £4,869 (Rs. 73,036) in the Central Provinces. It has also been imposed in some towns in Northern India. But neither it nor the tax on circumstances and property is likely to yield a large revenue, and there is always danger lest local taxation of this kind encroach on the field of Imperial taxation.

Tax on pilgrims.

16. In Benares there is a form of terminal tax, which is imposed with certain exceptions, on passengers coming to or leaving that station by rail. There is a radius of exemption beyond which the tax is levied, and it is collected by the railway companies as a surcharge on railway fares. A similar tax is also in force in Calcutta which is levied by the Calcutta Improvement Trust and is collected from passengers entering or leaving that city by rail or steamer. In Hardwar, Ajudhia and Thaneswar, there is a tax on pilgrims and other persons who enter the limits of those municipalities. The tax at Hardwar is levied on railway passengers throughout the year, while that at the other two municipalities is imposed only on the occasion of certain special fairs. In Bombay a pilgrim tax may be levied under section 59 (b) (x) of the District Municipal Act, III of 1901.

Powers of taxation.

17. The Commission were of opinion that municipalities should have full liberty to impose or alter taxation within the limits laid down by the municipal laws, but that the sanction of an outside authority to any increase in taxation should be required where the law did not prescribe a maximum rate. Subject to the general control of the Government of India over the principles to be followed, the sanction of the local Government is at present necessary to every proposal for the imposition of taxation. A maximum rate is prescribed in the Madras, Bengal, and Burma Acts, and in the Punjab, United Provinces and Central Provinces, so far as regards the tax on buildings and lands; but none is laid down in Bombay. The recommendations of the Commission do not command general assent. It is pointed out, for instance, that a municipality might reduce its taxation without due consideration to the needs of the administration and the security of loans. The Government of India, while recognizing the force of such objections, are, on the whole, in general sympathy with the Commission's recommendations. They think, however, that power to vary any tax might be reserved by such local Governments as are unable to accept in full the recommendations of the Commission, and that in the case of indebted municipalities the previous sanction of higher authority should be required to any alteration of taxation.

Subventions by Government.

18. Municipal finance has shown a marked expanse during the last decade. The total income of 701 municipalities in 1912-1913 was £3,282,845 (Rs. 4,92,42,675) as compared with £1,844,081 (Rs. 2,76,61,215) for 753 municipalities in 1902-1903.

Contributions from Government have materially assisted this expansion. Since 1911, the Government of India have made grants amounting to £3,076,466 (Rs. 4,61,47,000), of which £368,200 (Rs. 55,23,000) are recurring for urban sanitation. Municipalities have also received their share—the exact figure is not easily ascertainable—of the large educational grants made by the Government of India since 1911, amounting to about £3,987,800 (Rs. 5,98,17,000), of which £826,666 (Rs. 1,24,00,000) are recurring. Municipal boards have been relieved of all charges for the maintenance of police within municipal limits. In almost every province the recommendation that municipalities should be relieved from financial responsibility for famine relief and should receive assistance from Government in the case of severe epidemics has been already given effect to or the principle has been accepted.

There is a growing demand on every side for improvements, and it is not possible for all municipalities to finance large schemes of water-supply and drainage without substantial aid. Such aid has been freely given by the Imperial and Local Governments. The power of the Government to make grants is, however, limited, and financial assistance of this nature cannot be expected unless the rate-payers are prepared to bear a reasonable proportion of the burden. Where, however, further taxation is not possible, the Government of India trust that municipalities will bear in mind the possibility of supplementing taxation by development of municipal property, so as to ensure the best possible returns, and by maintaining the principle that special services such as the supply of water, electric lighting, etc., should, as far as possible, pay for themselves.

The Government of India have also accepted a further recommendation of the Commission, namely, that assistance may legitimately be given by Government to poorer municipalities which, without it, would be unable to carry on the normal standard of administration required from them. In such cases, the Government of India agree with the Commission that assistance can best be given, when it is given, by a general recurring grant-in-aid, which should be at the discretion of the local Government and not from its own resources.

Payment and control of services.

19. The Commission proposed that if a municipal or rural board has to pay for a service it should control it, and that where it is expedient that the control should be largely in the hands of Government, the service should be a provincial one. The Government of India, while not prepared to accept the proposal in full, have approved it in a somewhat modified form. They consider that charges should be remitted in cases where a local body contributes to Government for services inherent in the duty of supervision and control by Government officers, or for services which cannot expediently be performed except by Government agency. For example, Government may properly cease to charge for clerical establishments in the offices of supervision and control, or for the collection of district cesses which it is clearly expedient to realise along with the Government revenue. On this principle they have made assignments which will relieve both municipalities and rural boards of payments amounting to £40,000 (Rs. 6,00,000) a year approximately.

Tram way cess.

20. It was suggested by the Commission that municipalities should be empowered to levy a special rate for the construction or promotion of tramways. Local Governments generally are doubtful as to the value of the proposal. The Government of India will, however, be prepared to consider any practical proposal to this end which they may receive.

Budgets and financial control.

21. Commenting on the minute control exercised in some provinces over municipal finance, the Commission recommended that municipalities should have a free hand with regard to their budgets; the only check required should, they thought, be the maintenance of a minimum standing balance to be prescribed by the local Government. They acknowledged that relaxed control might lead to mistakes and mismanagement, but they were of opinion that municipal bodies could attain adequate financial responsibility only by the exercise of such powers and by having to bear the consequences of their errors. Further checks would be provided by the control which local Governments would exercise over loans, and by the power which should be reserved to compel a municipality to discharge its duties in case of default. The system proposed is stated to be in force in the Bombay Presidency where, however, no minimum balance is required by law. The Government of the United Provinces accepts the recommendations subject to the condition that Commissioners should pass and that Government should see the budgets of indebted municipalities. The Punjab Government also agrees subject to the proviso that the budget of an indebted municipality should be forwarded to the Government for information. The Government of Bengal are prepared to introduce the change experimentally in certain selected municipalities. They intend also to issue general instructions to Commissioners in this province to abstain from interference in details and to restrict their supervision to securing (1) a minimum closing balance, (2) provision for the service of loans, (3) the observance of the provisions of the Act or statutory rules and of any standing orders of Government. Other Governments concede certain relaxations of existing rules. The Government of India accept these opinions for the present. but they nevertheless regard the recommendations of the Commission as expressing a policy to be steadily kept in view and gradually realised.

Estimates for public works.

22. The Commission proposed that the existing restrictions on municipalities, which require outside sanction for works estimated to cost more than a certain amount, should be removed, but that Government should scrutinize and sanction estimates of projects to be carried out from loan funds. The majority of the local Governments are prepared to relax the existing rules in the direction of giving more freedom to municipal boards. The Government of India are in favour of extended freedom, subject, where necessary, to proper precautions against extravagant and ill-considered projects. They are content, however, to leave the precise extent of relaxation to be determined by local Governments. One important factor in this connection will be the quality of the professional agency available in the various boards. In their resolution No. 1[illegible]-A., dated the 10th November 1914, promulgating rules relating to the grant of loans to local bodies under the Local Authorities' Loans Act, 19[illegible], the Government of India have emphasized the necessity for a proper scrutiny of projects financed with borrowed money, and they trust that the rules in question will be carefully observed.

Establishments.

23. It was recommended by the Commission that the degree of outside control over municipal establishments should be relaxed, that the appointment of municipal secretaries or other chief executive officers, of engineers and health officers, where these exist, should require the sanction of the local Government in the case of cities, and of the Commissioner elsewhere, and that the same sanction should be required for any alteration in the emoluments of these posts, and for the appointment and dismissal of the occupants. As regards other appointments, they proposed that the local Governments should lay down for municipal boards general rules in respect to such matters as leave, acting and travelling allowances, pensions or provident funds and maximum salaries, and that their sanction should be required for any deviation therefrom. Almost all local Governments have expressed their willingness to relax outside control over the appointment of the staff employed by local bodies. In Bombay the system is generally that recommended by the Commission. In some other provinces the existing rules give a free hand to municipalities, subject to outside control in the case of certain appointments. The Government of India, while considering that Government control over other posts might reasonably be relaxed, accept the view that outside sanction should be required to the appointment or dismissal of secretaries, engineers and health officers, and they have already advised local Governments to take powers, where these do not exist, to require a municipality to appoint a health officer and to veto the appointment of an unfit person. Such powers already exist in the Bombay Presidency and have recently been taken by legislation in Bengal. The Imperial and Provincial Governments have given liberal grants to selected municipalities in order to establish a trained service of health officers and sanitary inspectors, the conditions of these grants being, as in England, such as will ensure the appointment of qualified men and reasonable security of tenure.

Special outside control.

24. The Commission thought that the Collector should retain certain powers, given under the existing Acts, e.g., the power to suspend in certain cases the operation of municipal resolutions, and that the Commissioner should be able to require a municipality which had neglected a particular service to take such action as he may consider necessary. The local Governments generally and the Government of India are of opinion that special powers of outside control are necessary and should continue.

Town-planning and relief of congested areas.

25. The question of extending the powers of selected municipalities to enable them to relieve the pressure of population in congested areas, and to undertake schemes of orderly town-planning in order to provide for future needs, has been dealt with by the Government of India in paragraphs 43 and 44 of their Sanitary Resolution Nos. 888-908, dated the 23rd May 1914. A Town Planning Bill, combining many original features with others derived from the latest English and Continental legislation, has now been passed into law in the Bombay Presidency, and the Government of India will watch with deep interest the results of this experiment which will, they trust, pioneer a fruitful expansion of municipal activities in India.

RURAL BOARDS (DISTRICT AND SUB-DISTRICT)

Sub-district boards.

26. The Commission desired that sub-district boards should be universally established and that they should be the principal agencies of rural boards administration. They noted that there was a considerable body of evidence that the sub-district boards existing in Bombay, Bengal, Punjab, Bihar and Orissa and the Central Provinces had not been efficient or successful bodies, and this they attributed largely to the circumscription of their powers and resources. They thought that these boards should have adequate funds and a large measure of independence, and that their jurisdiction should be so limited in area as to ensure local knowledge and interest on the part of the members, and be at the same time a unit well-known to the people. For this purpose they suggested the taluka or tahsil as a suitable unit. The system recommended by the Commission is in force in Madras, where, however, the territorial jurisdiction is coterminous with the revenue division. In Bombay the taluka board is universal and is the principal agency in rural board administration. In Bengal and in Bihar and Orissa the sub-district boards are merely the agents of the district boards and have restricted powers. The local Governments concerned deprecate such a reconstitution as would involve sapping the vitality of district boards, while in entire agreement with the Commission that sufficient use has not hitherto been made of these bodies. In the Central Provinces, where also sub-district boards with limited powers exist, a scheme has been introduced for enlarging their scope by entrusting them with the management of minor public works, sanitation, water-supply, etc., and placing an adequate share of the district council funds at their disposal for these purposes. In Assam the rural boards have jurisdiction over subdivisional areas, and perform the duties assigned elsewhere to district boards. The Governments of the United Provinces and the Punjab and the Chief Commissioner of the North-West Frontier Province consider the scheme unsuitable in view of local conditions. Districts in Northern India are comparatively small and form an easily controlled unit, communications are good, and moreover, under existing conditions in the provinces concerned, it would be more difficult to secure competent boards in tahsils than in districts. The Lieutenant-Governor of the United Provinces considers, moreover, that there is every prospect of a steady advance in the reality and utility of district boards by a continuous and orderly development of the existing system of delegation to tahsil or subdivisional committees. The Punjab Government favours the formation of sub-committees within a district board on a local basis. The Government of India accept the views of the several local Governments in regard to their own provinces.

Elective majority.

27. District and sub-district boards, in the opinion of the Commission, should contain a large preponderance of elected members, together with a nominated element sufficient to secure the due representation of minorities and of official experience.

In the United Provinces the number of nominated members on a district board cannot exceed one-third of the elected members, while in the Central Provinces the number of such members cannot exceed one-third of the total number. The Government of Madras are prepared to raise the proportion of elected members to two-thirds and one-half of the maximum strength on district and sub-district boards, respectively. In Bombay the Governor in Council regards it as inadvisable, in present conditions, to provide for an elected majority on the boards. There is already a substantial majority of elected members both in district and sub-district boards in Bengal, and in Bihar and Orissa. In the Punjab the elective system has been applied to many districts and the local Government has expressed its readiness to extend it. The Chief Commissioner of Assam has adopted the principle of granting an elective majority. In the North-West Frontier Province the change is not yet practicable owing to factional and tribal feeling. It will be seen that local Governments in general are in sympathy with the Commission's proposal.

Chairman.

28. The Commission were of opinion that an official should remain, as he usually is at present, chairman of every district and sub-district board. They considered that the removal of the district and subdivisional officer from the presidentship of rural boards would have the effect of dissociating them from the general interests of the district in such matters as roads, education, sanitation, etc., and would divorce them from healthy contact with instructed non-official opinion. They differentiated the circumstances of rural boards from those of municipalities, in that the latter are less connected with general district administration, that they have reached a higher level of political education, and that the jurisdictional area is much smaller and more compact. All local Governments have accepted this view with which the Government of India are in agreement, though they will have no objection to non-official chairmen being retained where such exist, or appointed where a local Government or Administration desires to make the experiment.

Financial resources.

29. The funds of district boards are mainly derived from a cess levied upon agricultural land over and above the land revenue, with which it is collected, and not usually exceeding one anna in the rupee (6¼ per cent.) on the annual rent value. Since 1905 this income has been specially supplemented by a Government contribution amounting to 25 per cent. of the then existing income. Besides this, special grants are frequently made to district boards by local Governments. The total number of district and sub-district boards in 1912-1913 was 199 and 536, respectively, with an aggregate income of £3,787,219 (Rs. 5,68,08,292). In the same year they received specially large grants from the sums allotted by the Imperial Government for education and sanitation. Prior to 1913 the district boards of several provinces did not receive the whole of the land cess. For example, this cess in Bengal and Bihar and Orissa was divided into two parts, viz., the road-cess and the public works cess. The district boards only enjoyed the benefits of the road-cess, while the public works cess belonged of right to the local Government, which returned, however, a portion in the shape of discretionary grants. In other Provinces, e.g., the United Provinces, the Punjab and the North-West Frontier Province, considerable deductions were made by the local Governments concerned from the cess for various purposes. In 1913 the Imperial Government made assignments to the local Governments concerned to enable them to hand over the entire net proceeds of the cess to the boards. The relief thus given amounted to £548,866 (Rs. 82,33,000) a year and the provinces benefited were Bengal, the United Provinces, Bihar and Orissa, and to a smaller extent the Punjab and the North-West Frontier Province. The income of district boards in Bengal, the United Provinces and Bihar and Orissa has mainly by this measure been increased by 44, 43 and 55 per cent., respectively, in the year 1913-1914. This notable expansion will enable them in future to undertake or develop many beneficent activities from which they have hitherto been debarred by lack of financial means.

30. It was the opinion of the Commission that district boards should not be empowered to raise the land cess beyond one anna in the rupee on the rent value, as this would be an unpopular measure. Under present conditions any proposal to raise the limit imposed by the existing law would require the previous sanction of the Government of India. Such proposals would need the most careful consideration on the merits, and the Government of India do not consider it necessary for the present to make any pronouncement on the subject.

Taxation.

31. The Commission proposed to allow district boards to levy a special extra land cess of 3 pies in the rupee on the annual rent value of land for the construction of light railways or tramways conditional on the approval of the tax by not less than three-fourths of the members of the board. This resolution would be subject to confirmation after a period of six months by an equal majority at a like meeting and to the sanction of the local Government. The Government of India, after consulting local Governments, have, with the sanction of the Secretary of State, empowered local Governments to undertake legislation, if they so desire, in accordance with the Commission's proposals. The scheme is to be commended from many points of view. It has an educative value by associating local self-government with responsibility for taxation for local objects, and it opens up great possibilities of economic development. The actual imposition of the tax will in many instances probably not be necessary; the power to impose it, if necessary, will be sufficient for purposes of guarantee. In a few districts in Bengal the ordinary resources of district boards have proved sufficient for the construction of railways within the limits of the district. The eminently satisfactory results which have attended the construction of district board lines in the presidency of Madras encourage the Government of India to hope that the financial results of carefully selected schemes will in the course of a few years materially strengthen the financial resources of district boards which are in a position to undertake the construction or guarantee of these lines. Legislation to carry out the proposal has already been undertaken in Assam and is under consideration in the Punjab. The Government of India trust that other local Governments will take steps to confer the necessary powers on the local authorities and that selected boards throughout the country will experiment on the lines suggested.

Railway or tramway cess

32. There are two general methods by which district boards, which possess the necessary resources, may secure the construction of a railway within the limits of the district. A district board may wait until the surplus funds, which it has accumulated from the levy of a special cess or otherwise, are adequate to justify it in undertaking construction at its own cost, or it may decide to allow to a company floated for the special purpose of the construction of the proposed railway a firm guarantee on the capital paid up. In such cases, in return for the guarantee, the district board will become entitled to a share of the surplus profits over a certain fixed percentage accruing from the working of the feeder railway. If the former method be adopted, it will usually be found convenient and economical to entrust the construction and working of the railway owned by the district board to the main line—whether worked by the State or by a company—with which the district board railway connects. In the latter case, the branch line company receiving the district board's guarantee may itself undertake construction and working, or may arrange for construction and working through the agency of the main line. The Government of India are of opinion that when a light railway using steam locomotives is projected outside urban limits it will ordinarily be preferable to deal with the project as a railway under the Railways Act, rather than as a tramway under the Tramways Act. In any event the sanction of the Railway Department is necessary in order to ensure that the project shall not conflict with others which that department may have under their consideration, and the Railway Department will at all times, when so desired, endeavour to arrange suitable terms for construction and working on behalf of the district board, or on behalf of a company which has received a district board guarantee. As a result of a recent reference from the Government of Madras the Government of India have decided that when a district board has accumulated a sum which, though substantial, is insufficient to meet the entire cost of a railway project which a district board desires to carry out, there is no objection to the raising of a debenture loan on the security of the railway to be constructed and the potential resources which a district board possesses through the power to continue the levy of a railway cess. For the redemption of such debentures a special sinking fund need not be accumulated. By this expedient a district board may become the owner of a district railway at a much earlier date than would formerly have been possible. A large field is thus offered for district board enterprise. This recent decision will, it is hoped, be of substantial assistance in accelerating the construction of local feeder railways outside the Imperial programme.

Budgets and financial control.

33. A further recommendation was that rural boards should be given full power to pass their budgets subject only to the maintenance of a prescribed minimum balance. The procedure recommended by the Commission is stated to be already in force in the Bombay Presidency. Other local Governments generally are not prepared to accede to this complete removal of restrictions, although some of them propose some relaxation in the existing rules. The Government of India consider that the present restrictions on the powers of the boards with regard generally to budget expenditure should be gradually relaxed with due regard to local conditions and requirements. The fact that an official is almost invariably president of a rural board and that powers of inspection and control by certain officers of Government are provided under the Acts relating to rural boards should ordinarily, in their opinion, be sufficient safeguards against gross inefficiency or mismanagement.

Estimates for public works.

34. The commission also proposed that the existing stringent restrictions on rural boards with regard to estimates for public works should be removed. At present rural boards have to obtain outside sanction in respect to roads and other public works, the estimates of which involve any considerable amount, the limits varying for different provinces. In the opinion of the Government of India, which has the general support of local Governments, the grant to rural boards of full powers in the allotment of funds and the passing of estimates cannot, for the present at least, be conceded, but the extent of the necessary financial control might depend in the case of rural boards on the competence of the staff employed and, where this varies, it would not be desirable to lay down hard and fast rules for the whole province. In such cases district boards might be placed in different classes according to the staff employed. The Government of India accept the view of the Commission that in districts where there are sufficient works to justify the special appointment of a trained engineer, a district board which desires to entertain such an officer and can afford to pay him an adequate salary should be permitted to do so.

Establishments

35. The Government of India have come to the same conclusions in the case of establishments of rural boards as in the case of municipalities (paragraph 23 supra). They have recently, in their Sanitary Resolution Nos. 888-908, dated the 23rd May 1914, expressed the opinion that the appointment of well-qualified and whole-time district sanitary officers to control and organise all sanitary arrangements and experiments in the district is one of the urgent needs of the present time.

Special outside control

36. Special powers of control over rural boards are vested in outside authorities under the existing Acts, and the Commission recommended that these should continue. The local Governments in general as well as the Government of India accept this view.

VILLAGE ORGANISATION—PANCHAYATS OR OTHER COMMITTEES.

Recommendations of the Commission.

37. The Commission recommended the constitution and development of village panchayats possessed with certain administrative powers, with jurisdiction in petty civil and criminal cases, and financed by a portion of the land cess, special grants, receipts from village cattle-pounds and markets, and small fees on civil suits. This proposal, favourably commended by the Government of India, who expressed their readiness to acquiesce in some form of permissive taxation, if need be, has in general been sympathetically received. The practical difficulties are, however, felt to be very great in many parts of India. The Government of Burma and the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces deprecate the introduction of a system which, in their judgment, is alien to the customs of the people and will not command public confidence. Other Governments are willing to experiment, but on different lines. The Punjab Government has already established panchayats for civil cases only and of a voluntary character. Sir Leslie Porter, when officiating as Lieutenant-Governor of the United Provinces, expressed his willingness to entrust selected panchayats with criminal as well as civil jurisdiction. The Madras Government are desirous of experimenting in the establishment of panchayats but consider that action should be confined for the present to the encouragement of voluntary self-contained organisms independent of statutory sanction and consisting of village elders conferring together for common village purposes. So far as judicial functions are concerned, they are content to rely on the provisions of the Madras Village Panchayats Regulation, 1816, and the Madras Village Courts Act, 1888, which authorise the assembling of panchayats and the convening of village bench courts for the settlement of particular civil suits on the application of the parties and to encourage the operation of these enactments wherever practicable. The Governments of Bengal and of Bihar and Orissa are of opinion that their existing laws sufficiently provide for the establishment of panchayats with administrative duties, while powers to dispose of criminal cases could be given under the existing Acts dealing with these matters. The Chief Commissioner of Assam has expressed his readiness to develop village government, and the Local Self-Government Bill which has recently passed the Legislative Council of that province permits the constitution of village authorities, the grant of funds by local boards and from other sources, and the delegation of minor powers of local control. The whole question has now been raised again in the discussions contained in the report of the Bengal District Administration Committee, 1913-1914.

Panchayats.

38. The Commission recognised that any policy of establishing panchayats would be the work of many years, would require great care and discretion, and much patience and judicious discrimination between the circumstances of different villages. The Government of India desire that where any practical scheme can be worked out in co-operation with the people concerned, full experiment should be made on lines approved by the local Government or Administration concerned. Throughout the greater part of India the word "panchayat" is familiar. The lower castes commonly have voluntarily constituted panchayats, to whom they allow quasi-judicial authority in social matters. The more artificial administrative committees such as chaukidari panchayats, local fund unions, and village sanitation and education committees, and, in places even village panchayats, already exist. The spread of co-operative societies and the distribution of Government advances in times of famine and scarcity on joint security are educative influences. Village tribunals for the disposal of petty civil suits have got beyond the experimental stage in some places and are in the experimental stage in others. There is, therefore, some material with which to build. The Government of India agree, however, with the view prominently brought forward by the Bengal District Administration Committee that much will depend on the local knowledge and personality of the officers who may be selected to introduce any scheme.

General principles.

39. With this general commendation, the Government of India are content to leave the matter in the hands of local Governments and Administrations. They are disposed to consider that the following general principles indicate the lines on which advance is most likely to be successful :—

(1) The experiments should be made in selected villages or areas larger than a village, where the people in general agree.

(2) Legislation, where necessary, should be permissive and general. The powers and duties of panchayats, whether administrative or judicial, need not and, indeed, should not be identical in every village.

(3) In areas where it is considered desirable to confer judicial as well as administrative functions upon panchayats the same body should exercise both functions.

(4) Existing village administrative committees, such as village sanitation and education committees, should be merged in the village panchayats where these are established.

(5) The jurisdiction of panchayats in judicial cases should ordinarily be permissive, but in order to provide inducement to litigants reasonable facilities might be allowed to persons wishing to have their cases decided by panchayats. For instance, court-fees, if levied, should be small, technicalities in procedure should be avoided, and possibly a speedier execution of decrees permitted.

(6) Powers of permissive taxation may be conferred on panchayats, where desired, subject to the control of the local Government or Administration, but the development of the panchayat system should not be prejudiced by an excessive association with taxation.

(7) The relations of panchayats on the administrative side with other administrative bodies should be clearly defined. If they are financed by district or sub-district boards, there can be no objection to some supervision by such boards.

PRESIDENCY CORPORATION AND RANGOON.

Recommendations of the Commission.

40. The Commission recommended that all the presidency corporations should be invested with the powers possessed by the Corporation of Bombay, and that the system of administration in force in that city, viz., that of nominated official Commissioner in combination with an elected chairman, should be extended to the other towns. They also considered that the same privileges should be conferred on the Rangoon municipality in view of its population, the large future which lies before it, and the strength of its commercial community.

Bombay, Calcutta, Madras.

41. The presidency municipalities are regulated by special Acts, and their resources and powers are far greater than those of any district municipality. In Calcutta and Madras the municipal chairman is appointed by Government. In Bombay he is elected, but the executive administration is vested in a Commissioner nominated by Government. He is assisted by a Deputy Commissioner appointed by the corporation subject to the confirmation of Government. The Commissioner possesses wide executive powers ; in some matters he must obtain the sanction of the standing committee (a statutory body one-third of whose members are nominated by Government) ; in others, again, of the corporation. The corporation enjoys a very full discretion in the work of municipal administration ; it passes its own budget, and may impose taxation within the limits of the law, and the sanction of Government is necessary only to the appointments of health officer and engineer.

The Corporation of Calcutta possesses similarly wide powers. The sanction of Government is, however, required to the execution of works costing one lakh of rupees or more and to the salary of any employé drawing more than Rs. 1,000 a month, as well as to the appointments of health officer and engineer.

In Madras the Government possess numerous powers which are not reserved to the Governments of Bengal and Bombay.

The adoption of the Bombay constitution.

42. As regards the main proposal of the Commission, the Government of Bengal were in 1909 disposed to agree with the preference expressed for the constitution of the Bombay municipality in respect of the offices of municipal Commissioner and chairman, but stated that the point would be considered hereafter, should the amendment of the Calcutta Municipal Act be undertaken. The Government of Madras agree with the corporation as to the advisability of introducing the Bombay system, and they have no objection to the general emancipation of the corporation from Government control, provided that the municipal Commissioner is placed in a position substantially as strong as he occupies in Bombay.

43. The Government of India have accepted in the main the recommendations of the local Governments which will go far towards carrying out the proposals of the Commission. They have expressed to the Government of Madras the opinion that a free hand might be left to the corporation to impose, without the sanction of Government, any tax, specifically sanctioned by the Act with regard to which maximum rates have been laid down therein. They consider that in order to provide security of tenure, the health officer, revenue officer, and engineer should not be removeable without the sanction of Government. In the case both of Calcutta and Madras, the limit of cost of works which may be undertaken without the sanction of Government will be raised to Rs. 2½ lakhs, and, with regard to Calcutta, the Government of Bengal have agreed to remove the restriction requiring the sanction of Government to salaries carrying more than Rs. 1,000 a month. The appointments of health officer and engineer will continue to require this sanction.

Rangoon.

44. With regard to Rangoon, the Government of Burma is not prepared to make the concessions recommended. The circumstances of Calcutta, Madras and Rangoon are in many respects widely different, and the Government of India defer, at any rate at present, to the views of the local Government on this point. But they observe, as a general proposition, that in cities where there is a responsible public press and representation in the Provincial councils, the case for entrusting large powers and extended freedom to the municipal bodies appears to be specially strong.

Local Government board

45. The suggestion that Government control over rural boards and municipalities should be exercised in each province by a local Government board, which should contain a proportion of non-official members, was not accepted by the Commission. They considered that, since their proposals would greatly reduce the outside control exercised over the proceedings of municipal and rural boards and would provide for the delegation in large measure of such powers of guidance as are necessary to commissioners and other local officers, no benefit would be derived from the creation of a special controlling board of this nature. The Government of India also are not prepared to support the proposal, which is not only unnecessary in the opinion of the local Governments consulted but is undesirable as tending to perpetuate the very centralisation in local affairs which it is the object of Government to diminish.

Conclusion.

46. In conclusion the Governor-General in Council hopes that this declaration of policy may lead to steady and sound progress, without hampering local Governments and Administrations or unduly fettering local self-government. It is designed to mark a definite advance in devolution and political education. His Excellency in Council trusts that it will be interpreted in the spirit in which it is framed, a spirit of prudent boldness, calculating risks but not afraid to take them in the cause of progress.

No. 1291L.S.-G.—The 2nd June 1915.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 8 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 (Bengal Act III of 1885), the Governor in Council is pleased to fix the number of members of the Sadar, Tangail and Jamalpur Local Boards in the district of Mymensingh at 16, 14 and 12, respectively, with effect from the date of this notification.

SENATE HOUSE, the 7th June 1915.

PROSPECTUS.

[APPROVED BY THE GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.]

ON the 2nd of July next, the Government of Bengal will open at Hastings House, Alipore, a residential school for the sons of Indian gentlemen. The Hastings House property has been placed by the Government of India at the temporary disposal of the Government of Bengal for this purpose.

Hastings House will provide accommodation for 50 boarders. The complete scheme which has now been sanctioned provisionally by the Secretary of State for India contemplates the admission of this number of boarders as a minimum and the engagement of a staff consisting of an English Head Master, with two English and six Indian Assistant Masters. The English Head Master and the two English Assistant Masters will reside on the premises.

Owing to difficulties which have arisen as a result of the war in Europe, it has been decided to make a start with a smaller staff and a reduced number of boys. Mr. W. F. Papworth, B.A. (University of London), has been engaged as an Assistant Master, and he, with the assistance of a staff of four Indian Assistant Masters, will start the school.

The school will be under the immediate supervision of the Director of Public Instruction. There will also be an Advisory Committee of Indian gentlemen.

The number of boarders to be admitted in July next will be restricted to an absolute maximum of 40. The original scheme provides for the education of boys from the age of 10 up to the age of 18, and directs that an age-limit of 10—13 years shall be observed in granting admission to new boys. It has been decided, however, that during the first three years of the school's existence, some latitude will be allowed in the matter of age-limits for admission. Preference will usually be given to those boys whose ages are within the limits specified in the original scheme, but it will for the present be within the discretion of the Assistant Master-in-charge to admit boys whose ages do not fall within these limits.

The school is to be essentially a boarding school, but, to start with, a few day scholars may be admitted with the special sanction of the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

Curriculum.—The medium of instruction will, in all cases, be English; but the study of the Vernacular and Classical Oriental Languages will form a compulsory part of the curriculum. The work of the school has been arranged to suit not only those boys who will ultimately proceed to British Universities, more especially Oxford or Cambridge, but also boys who will complete their studies at one of the Indian Universities. To secure both these aims it has been decided to adopt for the first few years the Cambridge University Local Examinations as the standard by which the school work may be gauged.

The school will be divided into Forms in the manner indicated below :—

LOWER SCHOOL—

Form I.

Form II.

UPPER SCHOOL—

Form III.

Form IV (Lower).

Form IV (Upper. Cambridge Junior Local Examination).

Form V.

Form VI (Cambridge Senior Local Examination).

The standard of work in the school will not be restricted to the requirements of the Cambridge Local Examinations. From the outset the curriculum will be directed with a view to taking the examinations of the Oxford and Cambridge Schools Examination Board for Lower and Higher Certificates, as soon as the necessary arrangements can be concluded with the Board in England.

Boys, whose parents or guardians desire it, will be sent up for the Matriculation Examination of the Calcutta University. In this connexion, however, it may be pointed out that the Cambridge Senior Local Examination, if passed under certain conditions; which include at present a course of further study for one year after the examination has been successfully taken, is recognized by the University of Calcutta as admitting students direct to the B. A. and B. Sc. courses. The rules which regulate the recognition of the Cambridge Local Examinations are now under consideration by the Syndicate, and the examinations of the Oxford and Cambridge Schools Examination Board have not yet come within the purview of the University of Calcutta. The Syndicate will be approached with reference to the recognition of the Higher Certificate awarded by the Oxford and Cambridge Schools Examination Board for the purposes of admission to Calcutta University courses. This certificate is accepted under certain conditions by the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge as exempting its holder from Responsions at Oxford or the Previous Examination at Cambridge.

The Assistant Master-in-charge desires to emphasize the fact that public examinations of the nature indicated above are valuable only in so far as they serve as a standard of the actual work of a school. These examinations will be taken as a matter of course at certain stages of the school curriculum; all the boys in Form IV (upper) and Form VI will, for example, be presented, so long as the Cambridge Local Examinations are taken, for the Cambridge Junior and Senior Local Examinations respectively. The private coaching of pupils of the school by members of the staff will not be allowed; but if the Assistant Master-in-charge considers that any particular boy requires additional tuition, he will make the necessary arrangements for this to be given by one or more of the masters of the school, who will not receive any remuneration for the extra work involved.

Fees.—For boarders Rs. 100 } a month, payable for 12 months.
For day boys ,, 25 }

These fees include, in the case of boarders, tuition, board and lodging; in the case of day-boys, tuition.

There will be a further charge of Rs. 5 a month, payable for 12 months, to cover laundry, subscriptions for games, the supply of stationery and medical attendance. Day boys will be charged a sum of Rs. 2-8 a month, payable for 12 months, to cover games and stationery charges.

Bills and the payment of fees.—Bills will be sent out on the first day of each month and should be paid to the Assistant Master-in-charge before the fifteenth day of the same month. Parents and guardians are requested to note that the school fees and the charge for extras are annual charges paid in monthly instalments, and as such must be paid for every month of the year. When a boy is to be removed from the school, at least a month's notice of withdrawal should be given; in default of such notice a month's fee will be charged. The Assistant Master-in-charge trusts that parents and guardians will, as far as possible, refrain from withdrawing boys, except at the end of a term.

Pocket money.—Parents and guardians will be asked to state the amount of pocket money they wish their boy to receive. The amount agreed upon will be paid to the boys by the Assistant Master-in-charge. No boy in the Upper School will be allowed to have more than Re. 1-8 a week; and no boy in the Lower School more than annas 12 a week.

Subjects of study.—The following table shows the subjects which will be studied in each Form:—

FORMS I AND II.—English, Arithmetic, History, Geography, Drawing, Manual Instruction, Hygiene, Vernacular.*

FORM III.—English, History, Geography, Mathematics, Drawing, Manual Instruction, Sanskrit or Arabic, Hygiene, Vernacular.*

FORMS IV, V AND VI.—The same subjects with the addition of Latin. Pupils who do not take Latin will be given extra instruction in Sanskrit or Persian.

School books.—Boys will be required to provide themselves with the necessary text-books. If desired, books may be purchased at the school.

* The study of an Indian Vernacular will be compulsory in each Form.

A list of the books which will be used is given below. The special set books for the first school year are marked by an asterisk. In no case should any book be purchased, until a boy has been definitely placed in a certain Form.

The school authorities reserve to themselves the right to require a parent or guardian to withdraw a boy whose influence is considered harmful or whose lack of progress hampers the work of the school. All applications for leave under these conditions should be submitted in writing.
